LIC IPO LIKELY TO BE PRICED ₹400-600 PER SHARE: SOURCES

The government is expecting to mop up ₹1 lakh crore from the Life Insurance Corporation IPO, first internal valuation shows

PRICE BAND UNLIKELY TO CHANGE, SAYS FINMIN

A Finance Ministry official told TNIE that the price band of LIC's initial public offering was estimated keeping in mind the current market condition, including the downside risk factors. "Unless there is a big disruption, the IPO will be in the same price range, even with some downside risk. The final report is likely in July this year," the official added

AUTHORISED CAPITAL TO BE INCREASED

- The Centre has already proposed raising LIC's authorised capital to ₹25,000 crore. IPO is expected by the 3rd quarter of FY22

Karnataka govt sets up SIT to probe sleazegate

Home Minister says investigation will focus on who the conspirators are

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE State Government on Wednesday announced the setting up of a Special Investigation Team (SIT) to investigate the sleaze CD episode which had led to the resignation of Ramesh Jarkiholi as Water Resources minister on March 3. Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai said on Wednesday evening that the inquiry had been ordered based on Jarkiholi's request, who had pointing out that the CD was defamatory and was a "conspiracy" to tarnish his image by accusing him of involvement in a purported sex-for-job scandal.

Bommai said the SIT will be headed by Additional Police Commissioner (West) Soumendu Mukherjee. "We have ordered setting up an SIT to investigate all the aspects of the case such as who is behind it, who hatched the conspiracy, where the CD (videos) was prepared," he added. Bommai made the announcement after discussions with senior police officers and Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa.

The Home Minister, in a communication to Bengaluru Police Commissioner Kamal Pant on Wednesday, said Ramesh Jarkiholi had written to him on March 9 pointing out that a petition had been filed against him on March 2 at Cubbon Park police station which was defamatory and had alleged that a conspiracy was hatched against him.

Ramesh Jarkiholi had referred to a complaint by social activist Dinesh Kallahalli, which was withdrawn four days later.

The former minister had alleged that a 'political leader' was among the main conspirators and had claimed that nine people, including two women, were involved in the conspiracy and that they had got an apartment and Rs 2 crore each. He also alleged that about Rs 100 crore was spent on hatching the conspiracy to defame him. He had, however, refused to name the conspirators.

On March 6, six ministers in B S Yediyurappa's Cabinet — B C Patil, S T Somashekar, Dr K Sudhakar, Narayana Gowda, Shivaram Hebbar and Byrati Basavaraj — had approached a city court seeking temporary injunction on the telecast of defamatory and unverified content against them. Minister S T Somashekar said there were other ministers too who also were apprehensive about it, but did not approach the courts due to fear of negative publicity. P4

Another Rawat now in U'khand hot seat

Tirath Singh Rawat

Anti-incumbency

Electoral activity will start in November-December, which leaves Tirath little time to shake off anti-incumbency. No party in Uttarakhand has got a consecutive mandate to rule so far

VINEET UPADHYAY @Dehradun

WITH the BJP springing a surprise by asking Lok Sabha member Tirath Singh Rawat to take over as the new Uttarakhand chief minister, he has the onerous task of cleaning up the mess created by his predecessor Trivendra Singh Rawat, despite having little legroom and the Assembly elections less that a year away.

On the other hand, Tirath knows Uttarakhand's politics inside-out as he did a stint as the state unit chief of the party and is credited with its 2014 Lok Sabha performance. He also has a clean image and is considered close to the top leadership of the party, including Union Home Minister Amit Shah.

However, since the last budget of the state government has already been passed, there is not much in terms of policy he can do to redeem the situation before Assembly polls in 2022, political experts said.

What's doable though is to pacify the dissenters, reverse some of Trivendra's unpopular decisions such as the Char Dham Shrine Board and the formation of the Gairsain commissionary, tighten the bureaucracy and run a fair and efficient government.

Since Tirath alone was administered the oath of office on Wednesday, the first challenge is to pick a balanced council of ministers. There was discontent within the party over giving major berths to Congress defectors in the outgoing ministry. At least 10 new faces are expected to be inducted into the new ministry.

"He has to act on four fronts — cabinet composition, budget and finances, Covid vaccination drive, and deal with the unpopular decisions of his predecessor — in less than an year," said Rahul Shekhawat, a Dehradun-based analyst.

Ironically, Tirath was denied a ticket in the 2017 state elections, said party insiders. Two years later, he contested the Lok Sabha polls from Pauri Garhwal and trounced Manish Khanduri of the Congress by over 3 lakh votes. Born in Siron village of Pauri district, he was a full-time worker of the RSS from 1983-88 and then rose to become the state vice-president of BJP's Yuva Morcha of the erstwhile Uttar Pradesh. P10

MAMATA INJURES FOOT ON CAMPAIGN TRAIL, SEES PLOT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kolkata

WEST Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday suffered a leg injury when she was boarding her car in Nandigram, as its door was allegedly intentionally slammed against her left foot by four-five persons amid lax security. She cancelled her plan to stay overnight in Nandigram and returned to Kolkata.

The incident happened hours after she filed her nomination papers for the Assembly elections from Nandigram. The Election Commission of India has sought a full report.

The 'attack' took place when Mamata came out of a temple and was about the board her car. "She sat on the seat beside the driver. Suddenly, four to five men reached near the car overpowering her Z-plus security personnel and slammed the door before she could place her left foot inside the car," said a party leader.

Mamata alleged there was no security arrangement by the local police. ''Police were not there. The superintendent of police was not seen there. There were four to five men who slammed the door deliberately before I could sit properly. I suspect the incident was a fallout of a conspiracy. My leg is swollen and I am having unbearable pain," she said.

Upon reaching Kolkata, she was taken directly to the state-run SSKM hospital and a five-member medical board was set up to oversee her health parameters. Governor Jagdeep Dhankar called on Mamata at the hospital amid ''go back'' slogans from TMC workers.

State BJP leader Shamik Bhattacharya said the party wants her speedy recovery. "If she wants, she will be provided Central force security cover," he added. But Congress' Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury called it Mamata's theatrics. P9

Experts' panel gives Covaxin the thumbs-up

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE subject expert committee of the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation on Wednesday recommended that Bharat Biotech's Covaxin no longer needs to be administered under the 'clinical trial' mode. According to sources, the committee took the decision after taking into account the interim analysis of phase 3 clinical trails submitted by the firm. If the vaccine is taken off clinical trial mode, beneficiaries will not have to sign a consent form for taking the jab.

"The recommendations of the SEC have been submitted to the Drug Controller General of India and a final decision is likely soon," said a source.

The Hyderabad-based vaccine maker a few days ago had said its Covid-19 vaccine had shown 81% efficacy in late-stage trials.

While allowing the restricted use permission for Covaxin in early January, the DGCI had said it could be rolled out only in clinical trial mode with "abundant caution" due to lack of efficacy data.

As Wistron restarts ops, Shettar has a word of advice for employees

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TAIWANESE iPhone contract manufacturer Wistron has reopened its facility at Narasapura in Kolar district, nearly three months after violent protests rocked the facility over delayed payments and longer work hours.

On Wednesday, Industries Minister Jagadish Shettar visited the facility and met the workers, assuring them of speedy justice in case of any violations in the code of ethics. He told the employees that violence can affect the lives of thousands of employees and they should approach the authorities concerned if they have any issues. "The factory was forced to shut down due to the incident. Also, thousands of workers were at a loss to understand the issue. If any issues arise in the coming days, you should inform your bosses first. If there was no solution, you can contact government officials," he told the workers.

The minister appealed to the employees not to resort to violent protests, but to seek the government's help to get issues resolved. "If there are any problems in future, bring it to the notice of the district authorities and the authorities concerned at the firm," Shettar said. No issue can be solved by resorting to violent protests. Thousands of workers were affected after the factory was forced to shut down, he noted.

"Ten years ago, people in Kolar were looking for work in Bengaluru. Now, industries are coming to Kolar district and employment opportunities are increasing locally. Such incidents should not affect positive developments," he stressed. P7

Day after lodging complaint about minor daughter's rape, UP man dies in 'accident'

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE father of a minor girl, who was allegedly gangraped by four men in UP's Kanpur district, was killed after he was hit by an unidentified truck on Wednesday. Expressing doubts about the accident, which came a day after they lodged a complaint about the rape, the girl's family said the accused could be behind it. They pointed out that the father of one of the accused is a police official.

According to Kanpur police sources, the man met with the accident outside the hospital where his daughter was taken for a medical examination.

"The accident took place when the medical examination of the victim was under way and the father stepped out for a cup of tea. After some time, we got to know that he was hit by a truck. He was immediately taken to a Kanpur hospital, but was declared brought dead. We have filed an accident case and are probing," said Kanpur DIG Preetinder Singh.

The truck driver and one of the rape accused have been arrested, he added.

After the accident, locals blocked the Kanpur-Sagar highway for five hours demanding swift action.

Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath announced ₹5 lakh to the girl's family.

Spikes at Delhi border to check violence: MHA

SANA SHAKIL @New Delhi

THE Centre on Wednesday defended its decision to install spikes at the Delhi-UP border, saying that it is to prevent a repeat of the Republic Day violence by agitating farmers.

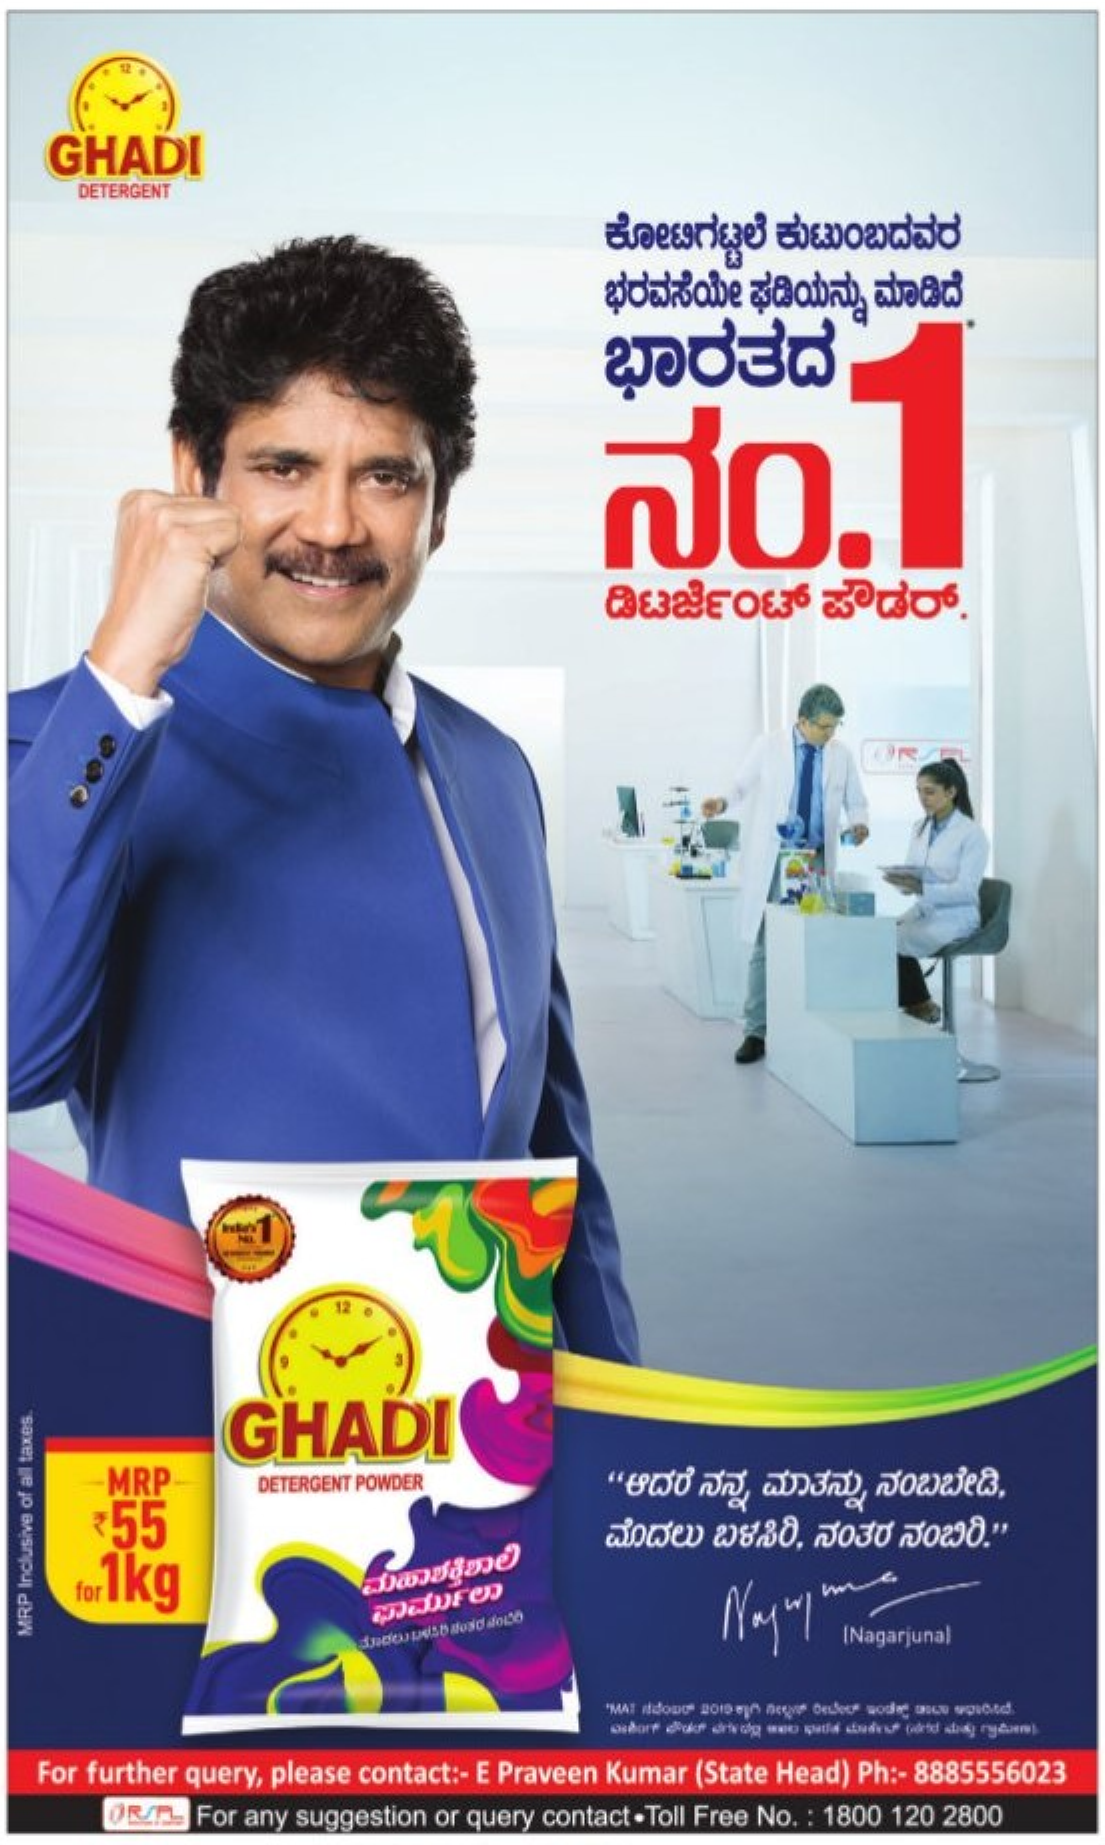
"The barricades at the Delhi-Uttar Pradesh border were strengthened to prevent any possible repeat of the conduct displayed on January 26," Minister of State for Home Affairs G Kishan Reddy said in the Rajya Sabha. The minister claimed no road was dug up at Delhi borders in view of farmers' agitation.

Thousands of protesters had clashed with police near Delhi's ITO during the tractor parade called by various farmer unions on January 26, with a section storming the Red Fort and clashing with security personnel. Over 300 policemen were injured during the chaos.

The minister said the Sanyukt Kisan Morcha, a forum representing 40 farmer unions, broke barricades on Republic Day in violation of the permission granted for taking out a tractor parade on a mutually accepted route.

"They proceeded towards Central Delhi despite being stopped inside the city and broke those barricades as well," Reddy said. Delhi Police have registered 38 cases in connection with the violence.

The minister said the government has taken adequate steps to alleviate the hardship caused to the commuting public due to the activities of the protesters.



"ಆದರೆ ನನ್ನ ಮಾತನ್ನು ನಂಬಬೇಡಿ, ಮೊದಲು ಬಳಸಿರಿ, ನಂತರ ನಂಬಿರಿ."

Pay for delays, HC fines: BDA to its officers

Agency hopes to cut back on court cases, has paid ₹2.35L in compensation in 2 months

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

IN the first two months of this year, Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) paid Rs 2.35 lakh in compensation to petitioners, besides fines to the Karnataka High Court, in connection with just 10 cases. Reason: Delay on the part of BDA officials in complying with court directives when disposing of writ petitions filed against it.

The fines paid this year to individuals range from Rs 10,000 to a maximum of Rs 50,000.

A senior official told The New Indian Express, "BDA has already remitted the amount to whoever we need to pay it to. However, we realise it is happening regularly. We have decided that officials responsible for the delay in compliance need to pay BDA the amount from their own pockets. This method should stop any delays from our side."

BDA Commissioner HR Mahadev held a discussion with top officials on Wednesday evening to address the issue, and a decision was taken to focus on dealing with court matters next week.

According to another senior official, a total of 7,000 cases have been slapped on BDA by the public, both serious and frivolous ones. The cases cover numerous issues, including loss of sites due to denotification, inadequate infrastructure in its flats and dissatisfaction with compensation allocated for loss of land.

An official with BDA's legal cell said, "The huge shortage of manpower in the BDA and various other jobs officials need to carry out is the key reason for their inability to comply with the court's directives."

The fact that the fine amounts are not very high for an organisation like BDA, was also a reason why implementation was not taken seriously, another official said.

BDA off-limits for public next week

Regular work in BDA will stand suspended from March 15 to 20 as all its officers and other staffers will be utilised to work on disposal of cases pending in the HC. Public access to the BDA office will be restricted, said an official press release. Registration of e-auction sites will not take place, and registration dateas will be given later. The special campaign is being held in public interest, the release said. "Only genuine emergency cases from the public will be permitted," a top BDA official said.

FEE ROW: PARENTS TO OPPOSE SCHOOLS IN HIGH COURT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AFTER the Karnataka High Court on Tuesday prevented schools from taking coercive action against parents and stopped the government from forcing the hand of private schools over fee payment, parents are ready to implead in the case.

They are looking to file objections to a petition by private schools against the 70 per cent fee cap set by the government.

"The government has issued an order with many loopholes. It has quoted the Karnataka Education Act 124 133, which is not applicable to managements of CBSE and ICSE schools. It is a setback for 99 per cent of parents. The government could have instead invoked RTE or any other rules to bring schools in line," said Sijo Sebastian, a parent.

Private schools have argued that the Act does not apply to them. It is unlikely that 70 per cent fee limit will be upheld, but parents are now trying to file additional petitions, he said.

School managements have reportedly informed the fee regulation committee about the high court order, but the committee has stood its ground and told the schools that the case has still not reached its conclusion.

Some parents are still optimistic. Shakeel said that at least the high court did not stay the order.

Also, the high court has made it clear that schools cannot force parents to pay the full fee, he added.

"Our advocate said that we need to implead, but needs time to file objections. The next hearing is on March 24, but before that, parents will challenge the school management's petition in the court," he said.

Mehkri Circle flyover

State will knock on SC door for Palace land

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE State government on Wednesday informed the Karnataka HC that it will file an interim application before the Supreme Court, seeking modification of its earlier order on granting Transferable Development Rights (TDR) to the heirs of the Maharaja of Mysore, over the acquisition of 15.39 acres of Bangalore Palace land.

The government made the submission before a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty, hearing a PIL filed by Samarpana, a socio-cultural organisation. It sought direction to BBMP to implement the direction of the Supreme Court and High Court, on acquiring Bangalore Palace land for widening Ballari Road (from BDA Junction to Mehkri Circle) and Jayamahal Road (from Mehkri Circle to Cantonment Railway Station).

The Supreme Court directed the state to give TDRs to the property owner, as per TDR rules. But, as per the Bangalore Palace (Acquisition and Transfer) Act, the ownership of Palace land vests with the government. While the erstwhile royal family has challenged the Act, it has not been set aside by the Supreme Court. In view of this, the state government held a meeting to decide on approaching the Supreme Court for modification of the order.

On February 23, 2021, the Karnataka government expressed difficulty in implementing the Supreme Court order. Acquisition cost for 15.39 acres would be Rs 37.28 lakh. Instead, almost Rs 1,400 crores is required to be paid through TDR.

If TDR is issued as per Supreme Court orders, the family may sell them to various builders. If the family were to lose the case challenging the Bangalore Palace Act in the Supreme Court, it would be impossible to recover TDRs worth Rs 1,400 crore.

Taking note, the High Court granted it time to approach the Supreme Court, but made it clear that both the government and BBMP should complete widening the road.

Aim to reach digital healthcare to rural areas: DyCM

EXPRESS NEW SERVICE @Bengaluru

BIG advancements are taking place in the healthcare industry to help the common man, said Deputy Chief Minister and minister of Higher Education, Dr C N Ashwath Narayan, during the 57th annual convocation and College Day of St John's Medical College, on Wednesday.

He said medical equipment are being indegenised, and prices for implants and stents are being capped. "Reforms are being put in place to prevent commercialisation of medical education institutes, so post graduate aspirants get the benefit," he added.

"All state governments have been striving hard to make health facilities reach remote parts of the country. Over 7,000 Jan Aushadhi Kendras have been set up in the country to provide medicines to people at affordable prices," he added.

He explained that tele-consultation will make a huge difference in the future in assuring quality healthcare, especially in rural areas. He added it would be useful in rural areas where it will make much difference. "Digital healthcare services have already been initiated," the DyCM said.

Valedictorian Aidan Barros, while recalling the journey of the batch as Covid warrior interns, told TNIE that their greatest difficulty was to be away from their near and dear ones. A total of 161 health professionals — 60 MBBS students, 83 postgraduates, 16 Super Specialty postgraduates and two PhD scholars, were awarded degrees. In all, 95% of the postgraduates passed, with 17 students getting university ranks, with six of them securing gold medals.

FASTag hits HC snag on NICE Rd

There are no excuses for slacking, or for not fulfilling your responsibilities. You must accept your commitments and complete your promises with a good grace, even if you are feeling somewhat tired and emotional. Perhaps you need some time by yourself, just to restore your energy.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You really should consider keeping certain facts private. There is no reason why other people should know exactly what you're up to and, even less, for you to tell them. Raise your mystical interests a notch, for you need to understand not only what is happening - but why!

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Bearing in mind that this is essentially a sociable day, even at work you should make teamwork your priority. One thing you must be clear about is that if you want your plans to succeed you will have to convince other people that you are in the right.

CANCER

It's not just that you've had a few knocks that matters, it's that you're more sensitive to them. You should now be on the mend, although there still seem to be one or two surprises in store. Be careful about how you pursue professional ambitions, for there are banana skins in view.

Romantic passions could flare, but oh so briefly. If it's adventure of the heart you're after, you will therefore have to move quickly to seize the moment. At work, bide your time just a little longer. And, at home, throw out all that clutter and dump some of that emotional baggage.

CAPRICORN

Think about your dream home. What exactly would you prefer? Where would you like to live? And who with? These are the sort of questions which can be answered now, even if putting them into practice is a different matter! Financial questions can be answered later.

AQUARIUS

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar inaugurated the first upgraded PHC at Singasandra on Wednesday. The PHC at Singasandra and one at Roopenahalli were built at a cost of about Rs 2.5 crore with funds from the health department and a contribution of Rs 78 lakh from BOSCH.

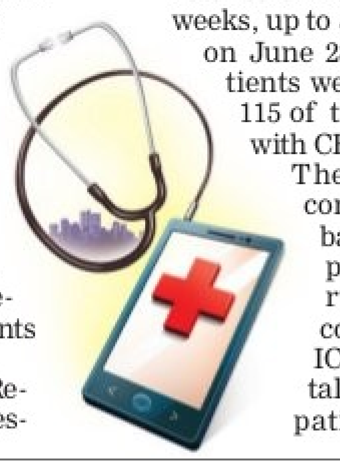
With tele-ICUs, K'taka upped Covid game

In 10 weeks, doctors examined over 9,700 patients across state through tele-health services

IFFATH FATHIMA @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA'S use of telemedicine, particularly to manage critically-ill Covid-19 patients, may have been one of the reasons the state's case fatality rate (CFR) was not very high, a new study suggests.

Titled 'Tele Medicine, Tele Rounds, and Tele Intensive Care Unit in the Covid-19 Pandemic', the study was published in the Indian Journal of Medical Specialties. It suggests, based on its performance in tackling Covid, that telemedicine could be the future and can provide healthcare even to remote areas.



Karnataka was the first state to set up a tele-health service -- including ICUs -- through PPP, and create a critical care resource team, including three hospitals in Bengaluru, to combat Covid cases. The team would go on 'tele-rounds' to treat patients in all districts.

Columbia Asia Referral Hospital in Yeshwantpur and Manipal Hospitals on Airport Road in Bengaluru, had done tele-rounds of 28 districts for 10 weeks, up to June-end 2020. As on June 28, 2020, 9,771 patients were examined and 115 of the patients died, with CFR at 1.17%.

These results were compared with urban and rural hospitals of Bengaluru, which were not connected to tele-ICUs. These hospitals cared for 3,419 patients during the same period and 92 died, with a CFR of 2.69%. This suggests patient management through tele-ICUs was more effective.

One of the authors of the study, Dr Thrilok Chandra, said, "When the pandemic set in, health professionals were trained in critical care. The partnership between government and private hospitals helped tele-ICUs to function."

Dr Chandra, who is also Karnataka's Health Commissioner, said, "We plan to start a dedicated tele-ICU to provide assistance for all specialties across the state."

Dr Pradeep Rangappa, of the department of critical care at Columbia Asia Referral Hospital and a co-author of the paper, said, "A digital command centre goes a long way in assisting patients in any corner. Due to tele-ICU, the CFR in Bengaluru was lower than in any other metropolitan city in India."

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar told TNIE, "Karnataka has been a pioneer in leveraging technology in the battle against the pandemic. We are establishing tele-ICU facilities for all government hospitals."

K'taka sees first case of SA variant

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Shivamogga

THE state has reported the first South African variant of coronavirus in a person who returned to Shivamogga from Dubai recently. The 53-year-old man has been admitted to McGann Hospital for treatment.

District Health Officer Dr Rajesh Suragihalli told TNIE that the man tested positive for the South African variant of the virus on Wednesday. "The test samples were collected when he landed in India 18 days ago. He didn't show any symptoms," he said.

The DHO said that the department is trying to trace people who came in contact him.

The discovery of the South African SARS-CoV-2 variant in the district has led to panic as the district had almost returned to normalcy.

The district reported the first Covid case on May 10, 2020.

Begin vaccine trials on kids: Experts

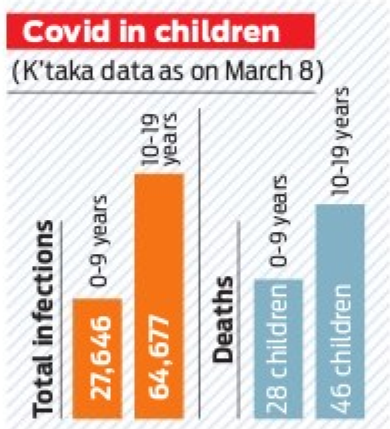
RANJANI MADHAVAN
@Bengaluru

Once the Central government gives its approval, children too will get the Covid vaccine | EXPRESS

THE question of starting vaccine trials on children below 12 was discussed at a recent meeting of the Indian Medical Association's Standing Committee on Child Health.

Chairman of the Standing Committee Dr S Srinivasa, who is from Karnataka, said that he has asked the national president Dr J A Jayalal to write to the Centre on permitting clinical trials in children as it is "very important to safeguard them. They are carriers of the novel coronavirus and can spread the disease easily."

Covid-19 mortality is low in children due to less lung penetration, fewer Ace2 receptors (associated with entry of SARS-C-oV-2) and reduced cytokine storm. However, they do experience symptoms such as skin rashes, fever, joint pain, joint swelling, and complications such as as multi system inflammatory syndrome (MIS-C), Kawasaki Syndrome, etc, said Dr Srinivasa. With new vaccines, the general practice is to assess them in adults before doing trials on children. Clinical trials on children as young as six years are being done for different vaccines across the world.



While data shows that mortality from Covid-19 in children is low, experts differ on the rate of infection spread. "In children respiratory infections spread fast because of close contact and droplet spread," Dr Srinivasa said.

However, other experts say that the infection did not spread as much among children as it did among adults.

"There have been no Covid vaccine trials on children (below 12) so far and the current idea would be to vaccinate as many adults as possible to develop herd immunity, so they do not spread the disease to children," said Dr Ravi Kumar, executive body member, Bangalore Paediatric Society, and consultant paediatric neurologist as Aster CMI Hospital.

Another moot point is the definition of a child. While individuals aged below 18 are legally considered adults, some doctors say this cannot be the only criteria. "Teenagers may be as well-built and have the same physique as an average adult. Hence, it is not always practical to go by age," Dr Kumar said. But in the absence of permission for clinical trials for children, Dr Kumar said, "Once more data on safety and efficacy emerge from vaccine companies, we can move to vaccinating teenagers and young children."

'Budget fails to make education inclusive'

THE education sector in general, and school education, in particular, was badly affected due to the Covid-19 outbreak. Schools were shut from March 14, 2020. As a result, learning in schools was at a standstill. When the pandemic worsened, the traditional classroom learning process was replaced by digital online platforms. Due to the digital divide in the State, the learning process broadened the gap between the haves and have-nots, urban and rural, girls from disadvantaged communities, disadvantaged groups, including children with disabilities, further accelerating and sharpening pre-existing inequality and discrimination within the school system.

Niranjanaradhya V P
Development Educationist

This unexpected crisis derailed the learning process in the state, affecting nearly 10 million children. As per studies, children in public schools lost many competencies learnt in previous grades, especially in language and math, resulting in deep learning loss. Rural children, especially girls, bear the brunt.

The digital divide, combined with no access to physical learning, has pushed a number of children out of school, jeopardising their fundamental right to education. As a result, the problem of child labour, child bonded labour, child marriage, child abuse, child trafficking, child begging etc, increased many fold by reversing all concerted efforts made to address these issues in the last two-three decades.

In this context, there were a lot of expectations from the State Budget, especially for public school education to address the learning crisis and challenges to children. Moreover, this is the first budget presented by the Chief Minister after the National Education Policy (NEP) was launched by the Centre. The state government was overambitious and become exemplary in implementation of the NEP. Hence, a clear financially-backed road map for NEP was expected.

However, the Chief Minister poured cold water on these expectations of poor children, parents and academia. Though there are a few negligible proposals for providing infrastructure, sanitary facilities and furniture to schools and pre-university colleges (overall Rs 350 crore), it lacks a holistic approach to strengthen public education.

The education sector has received a budget of Rs 29,688 crore for 2021-22, down by Rs 80 crore from 2020-21. In terms of overall percentage, education's share decreased from 12.5% in 2020-21 to 12% in 2021-22. The Budget is silent on Covid-19 response measures for education, when nearly 10 million children have lost an entire year because of the pandemic.

The absence of concrete and planned measures to bring school education out of a pandemic crisis raises the larger question of whether school education is really a priority for the ruling government. The ambitious plan of the state government to implement the NEP without substantial financial resources seems doomed to failure. The budget fails to offer any financial road map for NEP implementation. Ironically, it confines itself to creating awareness on NEP for education staff.

CMs must give up finance portfolio: MLC

ENS @ Bengaluru

BJP MLC AH Vishwanath on Wednesday criticised the trend of chief ministers holding several portfolios, including finance. During a discussion in the Council, he said the finance portfolio needs an exclusive minister. CM B S Yediyurappa and former CMs Siddaramaiah and HD Kumaraswamy have presented several budgets. "They should realise that they are not financial experts. There is no depth in their budgets. There should be an exclusive minister for finance who should check the opening and closing balance every day. Only then there will be financial discipline," he said.

He said the same issue had led to a fight between him and the then CM Kumaraswamy. "I told him that the state should have an exclusive finance minister. He was offended and asked me whether I doubted his capabilities. I told him it was not about capability but about time constraint, as CMs are busy," he said.

Meanwhile, he said Vidhana Soudha has become a haven for brokers. "It is like a mall for them. They come, meet ministers and MLAs, and get what they want. All exits should be closed in the afternoon and everyone should be enquired about their purpose of visit," he said.

It's BJP vs BJP in House as Yatnal raises quota issue

Cong applauds MLA for debating Panchamasali row; Oppn questions relevance of committee to study reservation demands

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal speaks during the Assembly session at Vidhana Soudha, in Bengaluru on Wednesday

> The CM had said he will respond to the demands of Panchamasali community ... but today, he has gone missing from the House. Siddaramaiah is showing concern for the community by letting me talk
> Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, BJP MLA

OPPOSITION parties in the Assembly on Wednesday had to do nothing but sit back and watch as BJP MLAs took on their own government. BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, who is a known critic of the government, raised the issue of Panchamasali Lingayat stir over re-categorisation of reservation on the floor of the House during the Zero Hour only to be countered by his party colleague MP Renukacharya and eventually Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai.

All that Congress members did was watch the fight play out and applaud Yatnal's criticism of the Yediyurappa government.

"The chief minister had said he will respond to the demands of the Panchamasali community ... but today, he has gone missing from the House. Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah is showing concern for the community by letting me talk. Seems like the Speaker is under pressure too to not let me raise this matter," said Yatnal, amid applause from Congress, reminding the House that thousands from the community are sitting in protest at the Freedom Park in Bengaluru.

The retort came from Renukacharya even before Bommai could respond on the issue. "Don't say the CM is missing. We support your cause, but that doesn't mean you should lash out at the CM," Renukacharya said.

Yatnal demanded that the government set a deadline as to when Panchamasalis can be included in the 2A reservation category. "I am not some random guy on the street. I have been a union minister. Let me remind the party that we have to go before the people in two years. A wrong impression is being spread about our government and party. If the government doesn't have the will to provide this reservation then I will stage a sit-in protest in the House and those protesting at Freedom Park will go on a hunger strike," Yatnal said.

Bommai said that measures are being taken to accommodate the demands of all communities. "If all demands are to be met then the reservation will increase to 56 per cent. That means we will have to show special cause for increasing reservation more than the allowed 50 per cent. We will ensure justice to all communities without legal complications," he said, adding that the Cabinet has approved forming of a three-member committee to look into the issue.

Yatnal saw the committee as a mere eyewash and an attempt to buy time. Siddaramaiah insisted that the committee would be irrelevant.

Giving a breakup of existing reservation, Bommai said apart from 3 per cent quota to STs and 15 per cent to SCs, Category 1 with 95 castes and 196 sub-castes has 4 per cent quota, Category 2A with 103 castes and 290 subcastes has 15 per cent, Category 2B which includes minorities has 4 per cent, Category 3A with three castes and 47 subcastes has 4 per cent, while Category 3B with six castes and 42 subcastes has 5 per cent reservation in education and jobs.

Justice Subhash Adi to head 3-member panel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister BS Yediyurappa on Wednesday appointed members to the high-powered committee to review quota demands of various communities.

Former Upalokayukta and retired High Court judge Justice Subhash B Adi will lead the three-member committee that will also include K Ratnaprabha, former chief secretary, and Dr BV Vasanthkumar, assistant professor, Maharani Arts College, Mysuru.

The appointment came on a day BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal raised the issue of Panchamasali-Lingayat agitation demanding their inclusion under 2A category of reservation.

The Cabinet took a decision to set up the committee weeks ago to address various quota-related demands. Panchamasalis are demanding inclusion under 2A category from the current 3B category and the request has been forwarded to the Backward Classes Commission. Kurubas are demanding to be included under ST category and a ethnographic study is under way at University of Mysore. SCs and STs, especially the Valmikis, have demanded higher reservation, which has been recommended by the Nagmohan Das committee.

The three-member committee is tasked with reviewing all quota-related demands and guide the government on Constitutional and legal parameters. "Since the total reservation will exceed the 50 per cent cap if demands of all communities need to be met, we need to ensure it stands legal scrutiny. We need to prove with data that increasing reservation should be considered as a special case as per Indra Sawhney case judgment and this committee will help us with it," said Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai.

The committee will be allowed to set its own limitation and deadlines to submit a detailed report on the various quota demands and how many of them can be met and on what conditions.

Sindagi bypoll: BJP ropes in 5 ministers

MAHESH M GOUDAR
@ Vijayapura

A day after Ashok Managuli, son of late JDS MLA M C Managuli, joined Congress ahead of the bypoll to Sindagi Assembly constituency, the BJP has upped its game to capture the seat. It has appointed five Cabinet ministers, including two deputy chief ministers, to draw up the poll strategy.

Though the bypoll schedule is yet to be announced, both BJP and Congress have already begun their preparations.

The BJP has drawn in DyCMs Govind Karjol and Laxman Savadi and three Cabinet ministers—Murugesh Nirani, Shashikala Jolle and C C Patil, indicating that it will be a tough fight. MP Ramesh Jigajinagi, MLC Arun Shahapur and a prominent party worker, Chandrasehkar Kavatagi, have also been given additional responsibilities.

"This is an indication that the party has taken the bypoll seriously, though the result may not cause any damage to the government. In the 2018 polls, its nominee lost to Managuli by a wafer-thin margin," said political analyst Gopal Naik.

"Seven aspirants are lobbying for the ticket. Of them, former MLA Ramesh Bhusanur, Karnataka State Lime Development Board chairman Ashok Allapuri and Ravindra Loni are frontrunners," a source said.

Nirani said, "The core committee meeting is likely later this week where the final decision will be taken."

JDS unhappy with Ashok

Ashok's decision to join Congress has shocked local JDS leaders. District party president Mallikarjun Yendigeri said, "M C Managuli's sons have severed their ties within three months of their father's demise. Both former PM Deve Gowda and H D Kumaraswamy had said the ticket will be given to one of the family members."

SOMASHEKAR BLAMES CONG FOR CD GATE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

Cooperation Minister ST Somashekhar (right) addresses the media in Bengaluru on Wednesday | ASHISHKRISHNA HP

COOPERATION Minister S T Somashekar on Wednesday blamed the opposition Congress party for the CD gate, which has singed former Water Resources minister Ramesh Jarkiholi.

Somashekar, who was with Congress before joining BJP, stopped short of naming any leader for the release of the sleazy CD, which shows Ramesh in a compromising position. He said, "Karnataka knows the morality of Congress."

He said, "We had credible information about four months ago that there was a conspiracy against us." Ramesh too had made a similar statement during his first appearance after the CD gate on Tuesday.

Hitting back at Somashekar, KPCC president DK Shivakumar said, "I know ST Somashekar. He served in responsible positions in our party for 20 years. I request him to reveal what are the other similar instances that our party was involved in. Not only him, but all those who have gone with him too can also give proof of any such wrongdoing by Congress as alleged by them."

He said, "I don't know whether Somashekar has made this statement on his own, or made to make this statement."

Shivakumar said, "BJP legislators Vishwanath and Basanagouda Patil Yatnal have revealed that someone within the saffron party is resorting to blackmail by possessing a similar CD. Will the CM order a suo motu investigation into this?"

Shivakumar said, "In the CD, Ramesh Jarkiholi has spoken lowly of Kannadigas. Why are Kannada outfits silent?"

Satish met kin of woman seen in CD at Nidagundi

MAHESH M GOUDAR
@ Bagalkot/Vijayapura

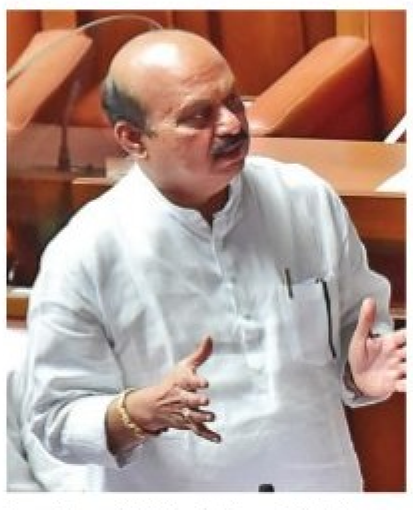
BESIDES a full-fledged investigation by the police and other investigating agencies to trace the people involved in the CD gate scandal, the family of former Water Resources Department Ramesh Jarkiholi has launched its own investigation into the case.

Even before the sleaze CD turned viral on social media a few days ago, Ramesh's brother and KPCC working president Satish Jarkiholi flew from Gokak in his helicopter to Nidagundi village, near Bagalkot where the family of the woman seen in the sleaze CD was believed to be residing.

A top police source said, "Satish came to Kudalasangama in his private chopper on March 5. He first visited a quarry owned by his family members near Hunagund and Khustagi villages, and then visited the relatives and family of the woman allegedly seen in the CD on the same day at Nidagundi village."

A couple of days after Satish's visit, a police intelligence team also visited Nidagundi, but by then the family had vacated the house. None from the woman's family was present in the village for an inquiry, the source added.

No one in the Congress party in Bagalkot or surrounding areas were aware of Satish's visit to Nidagundi, even as he flew 162 km from Gokak to Kudalasangama, near Bagalkot.



A section of BJP feels Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai is the right replacement for Ramesh Jarkiholi as Water Resources Minister

With Ramesh out, lobbying on for his portfolio

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @ Belagavi

WITH the exit of Water Resources Minister Ramesh Jarkiholi from the Cabinet, the BJP top leadership is under pressure from several senior ministers and legislators for the plum portfolio.

A large number of Ramesh's supporters, however, have begun exerting pressure on Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa to reinduct him as minister with the same portfolio if he gets a clean chit in the CD gate episode.

Several senior BJP ministers, unhappy with the portfolios, too are making desperate attempts to grab the high-stakes water resources department. But the chief minister is unlikely to hand it over to anyone soon.

A section of BJP leadership finds Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai to be the right replacement for Ramesh, considering his past experience with the department. He is highly knowledgable in the irrigation sector and can deliver better as a Water Resources Minister than as Home Minister, sources said. Bommai too is said to have asked the chief minister for the portfolio as he is not happy with the home department.

Revenue Minister R Ashok is another heavyweight who has pitched for the ministry with the CM, the sources added.

But Karnataka Milk Federation Chairman Balachandra Jarkiholi has not given up hope of his brother Ramesh returning as minister and that too in the same department, soon after agencies investigating the CD gate give him a clean chit.

It is said that around 10 MLAs have appealed to the chief minister to elevate Balachandra as water resources minister. But, the CM is in no hurry and has reportedly told them that he has to take the approval of the party high command.

Sources said the chief minister may not assign the portfolio to anyone till the by-elections to three Assembly segments in the state are over. Also, it could be handed back to Ramesh if he gets a clean chit, they added.

7-AND-A-HALF-HOUR PLAY

Page to stage, Bhyrappa's opus 'Parva' to premiere tomorrow

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

Rangayana director Addanda Cariappa and theatre person Prakash Belawadi address the media in Mysuru on Wednesday | UDAYSHANKAR S

IT is a magnum opus to match the magnum opus. Theatre repertoire Rangayana is staging a seven-and-a-half-hour play on renowned writer S L Bhyrappa's tome Parva at Kalamandira on Friday.

The play, directed by theatre personality and actor Prakash Belawadi, will premiere on Friday, followed by two shows on Saturday and Sunday.

Rangayana director Addanda Cariappa was happy that the elaborate theatre production was possible in just six months.

"At a time when theatre activities came to a standstill across the country because of Covid-induced lockdown, we took up the reading of Bhyrappa's 'Parva' and decided to bring it from page to stage. Prakash Belwadi and team adapted it to play and came out with the final draft which was approved by Bhyrappa," he said.

The play will see four intervals – three tea breaks and one lunch break. It will be staged for three days in a row and Rangayna also plans to hold a marathon performance from March 25 to May 30.

"Already, 70 per cent of the tickets for the first three shows on March 12, 13 and 14 have been booked. As the demand is high and theatre buffs from across the state are expected to come to watch it, we are staging the play in three episodes of two-and-a-half hours each -- 'Aadi Parva', 'Niyoga Parva' and 'Yuddha Parva'. It will be staged on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from March 25 at Bhoomigeetha. Those willing to watch the play in one stretch can attend the megashow every Sunday from March 25 to May 30," he said.

The ticket is priced at ₹250 for the full show and ₹100 per episode for those who want to see it in three sections.

On complaints that the tickets are priced high, Cariappa said, "We have only Rs 500 and Rs 250 tickets for the first three shows. Rs 1,000 tickets are not sold to the public, but have been booked by the SL Bhyrappa Prathistana for the first two rows for their guests. The money will be contributed to Rangayana."

Twenty-five artistes, including 12 senior performers from Rangayana, and over 10 technicians are involved in the play, said Belawadi. The subtitles for dialogues will run on a screen fixed on the stage to make non-Kannadigas understand the play.

Transport staff can opt for inter-corporation transfer

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE State Government on Wednesday approved of inter-corporation transfer of employees of the four transport corporations. With this, employees of Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC), Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC), North Eastern Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (NEKRTC) and North Western Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (NWKRTC) will be eligible for inter-corporation transfers.

The government had approved one-time inter-corporation transfers in 2016, after requests from employees who wanted to return to their native. During the recent protest, they had listed inter-corporation transfer among their demands. According to the order, 2% of employees will be eligible for transfer, and can avail of it only once. Permanent employees, who have worked for 10 years, will be eligible, and requests will be considered based on seniority. Employees facing disciplinary action will not be eligible.

Transport Minister Laxman Savadi said inter-corporation transfer will be done from April 1 to 30 every year.

AIRPORT CARGO STAFFER HELPS GOLD SMUGGLERS, ARRESTED

Woman collected consignment from a couple who arrived from Dubai

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

IN a shocking turn of events, the staffer of a cargo handling unit at the Kempegowda International Airport was caught red-handed on Wednesday morning, abetting a woman flyer from Dubai in smuggling gold. Women staffers of the Air Intelligence Unit of Airport Customs had to don burqas and hang around in the ladies restroom to intercept the suspects and foil their smuggling bid.

The gold smuggled in a plastic sheet weighed 1 kg, while the final quantity after extraction was 880 grams. The 22-year-old staffer is an employee of AISATS, a joint venture between Air India Limited and SATS Limited, a gateway service provider for Asia, said a top Customs official.

The gold which was seized from smugglers by Customs at KIA in Bengaluru on Wednesday.

According to the official, the team was tipped off about gold being smuggled by a passenger on an arriving Emirates flight. "When the specific flight, EK 564, arrived, we monitored the passengers closely. When conducting checks at the immigration area, our staffers found a couple repeatedly visiting toilets nearby," the official explained.

Two Customs staffers donned burqas and entered the ladies toilet. "Our team was waiting around when they found the staffer of a cargo handling company enter a cubicle next to the one that the suspected woman smuggler had entered. In the open space beneath the two cubicles, the flyer passed on a plastic sheet containing gold in paste form to the staffer. They understood this to be the exchange of gold," the official explained.

As soon as the staffer left the toilet, she was subjected to physical checks and the package was recovered from her person. The couple was also held. Another team nabbed two men outside the terminal, who were waiting for the consignment to be delivered.

AISATS could not be reached for their response.

AIADMK list: 73 MLAs get ticket

Of the nine remaining seats, party may take a few more, will contest around 180 seats

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

THE ruling AIADMK on Wednesday released a second list of 171 candidates, of which 73 are sitting MLAs including 27 ministers. Around 40 MLAs have been denied tickets this time, including three ministers — S Valarmathi, G Baskaran, and Nilofer Kafeel.

It is likely that a few among them will get a chance when candidates are announced for the balance 9 seats pending to be filled. Sources said the party is overall happy with the choices as many district secretaries and office bearers have been given a chance.

With this, so far, the party has fielded 177 candidates and allocated 48 seats to allies - PMK, BJP and four smaller parties. The AIADMK has to allocate seats to the TMC and one or two smaller allies within the 9 seats left. In Kolathur, from where DMK chief MK Stalin is likely to contest, AIADMK has fielded its organising secretary Adhi Rajaram. Former Mayor Saidai S Duraisamy will contest from his stronghold of Saidapet. Ministers K Pandiarajan and PA Benjamin have been renominated in their sitting constituencies - Avadi and Maduravoyal.

JCD Prabhakar, member of the AIADMK's steering committee will be contesting from Villivakkam constituency while former Minister S Gokula Indira has been nominated for Anna Nagar constituency. Former DGP R Natraj has been renominated in Mylapore constituency. Minister KT Rajenthra Bhalaji has been nominated for the Rajapalayam constituency though his sitting constituency is Sivakasi. AIADMK's deputy coordinators KP Munusamy and R Vaithilingam, who unsuccessfully contested 2016 polls, have been given party tickets.

One of the senior most leaders of the AIADMK, S Semmalai, sitting MLA from Mettur constituency, has been denied a party ticket this time. PMK, as expected, bagged most constituencies in the northern and western belts, where it has a strong base. In Chennai, PMK got the high-profile Chepauk-Triplicane constituency, from where DMK youth wing secretary Udhayanidhi Stalin is likely to contest.

In the southern belt, PMK has been given one seat - Athur. Soon after, the party announced its candidates for all 20 constituencies. BJP's share of 20 is spread out across the State. Coimbatore South has been given to the saffron party, after which AIADMK cadres erupted in protest.

SMALLER PARTIES GET THEIR SHARE

Of the 10 remaining seats, the AIADMK may take a few more seats and as such, the ruling party will be contesting in around 180 seats in this election. The number of parties which would contest in Two Leaves symbol may touch 185. Last time, all the 234 candidates in the AIADMK-led alliance contested in Two Leaves symbol. Meanwhile, the AIADMK has allocated one constituency each to the various parties and the candidates will be contesting on AIADMK symbol.

P C CHACKO QUITS CONG, BLAMES GROUPISM

T'Puram: In a sudden move, senior Congress leader P C Chacko on Wednesday resigned from the party citing neglect, factionalism and an inept central leadership. Announcing his resignation in New Delhi, Chacko lashed out at the 'I' and 'A' group leaders of the Congress in Kerala for dividing the seats between themselves. He also unleashed a tirade against the AICC leadership, saying they have failed to prevent the strides made by the BJP effectively.

CPM announces poll list amid mounting dissent

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ T'Puram

DISREGARDING voices of dissent within the party, the CPM on Wednesday announced its candidates for the assembly elections. Eight ministers in the current cabinet, including Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan, are among 23 sitting MLAs who have found a place in the list of candidates released for 83 of the 85 seats where CPM members or party-supported independents will be contesting.

Interestingly, 33 sitting MLAs -- including five ministers -- are not in the fray. Instead, 38 fresh faces are set to contest. Eight state secretariat members too are in the list. Candidates for Manjeswar, where local party units raised opposition over the choice of K R Jayananda, and Devikulam will be announced later.

Nine are party-backed independents including Higher Education Minister K T Jaleel, who will contest from Thavanoor. The prominent names missing are Finance Minister Thomas Isaac, Public Works Minister G Sudhakaran and Industries Minister E P Jayarajan, keeping in tune with the CPM state secretariat decision not to consider those who had contested and won for two consecutive terms.

There are 12 women candidates, including Health Minister K K Shailaja and Fisheries Minister J Mercykutty Amma. Architect Shelna Nishad Ali, daughter-in-law of six-time Congress MLA Mohammed Ali is slated to seek mandate from Aluva while singer Daleema will contest from Aroor.

Pinarayi, 75, is the oldest in the list while 27-year-old SFI leader Sachin Dev is the youngest.

Revised solar policy to help smaller players

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA, which was the first state to come out with a solar policy, is now working on revising it to ensure that large players do not monopolise the market.

Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa had announced about the renewal of the solar policy in his budget presentation. The government has also declared that it will announce an electric vehicle and fuel storage policy.

The aim of renewing the policy is to increase the production and use of electric vehicles and review of incentives.

Additional Chief Secretary, Energy Department, Kapil Mohan said that the policy will be renewed for a five-year period, keeping in mind changing technologies and inventions, which need to be incorporated.

Another official from energy department said the focus of the policy will be large players. "So far, it has been observed that large players dominate the market, do not complete projects and do not let smaller players grow. The new policy aims at creating spaces for smaller ventures to grow and make alternative energy resources affordable for all," the official said.

The draft policy has also been hosted on the department website to elicit public opinion. The officials said most of the opinions are for reducing prices, but the cost of the panels and the services are market-driven.

Panel may visit Kalasa-Banduri site next week

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR
@Belagavi

WITH the Supreme Court setting a four-week deadline for submission of a report on whether water was diverted by Karnataka via Kalasa nala under the Mahadayi project, the Joint Inspection Committee (JIC) comprising representatives from Karnataka, Maharashtra and Goa is expected to arrive at the Kalasa-Banduri project site at Kankumbi, in the third week of March.

The Supreme Court had ordered formation of the JIC on February 22. On submission of the report, the apex court is expected to take up hearing of the case on April 4.

The Maharashtra government named senior engineer Vijaykumar Thorat as its JIC member, Karnataka named executive engineer Krishnojirao, while Goa appointed assistant executive engineer M K Prasad as its representative.

Karnataka had appealed to Goa and Maharashtra -- stakeholders in the Mahadayi project – to expedite the process of visiting the project site for an inspection. The committee will ascertain whether water was diverted via Kalasa nala, after the Supreme Court ordered construction of a wall to halt the flow of water from Mahadayi via Kalasa nala a few years ago.

Meanwhile, sources claimed it would be extremely difficult to enter the tunnels at the Kalasa-Banduri site for an inspection, as there is a huge amount of slush inside. Despite repeated clarifications issued by Karnataka, the Goa government had filed a contempt petition against Karnataka in the Supreme Court.

Privacy rules: HC orders notice to Centre, State and media platforms

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court issued notice to the Central and State governments and 73 print, electronic, digital and social media platforms, on a petition seeking directions to implement the Supreme Court judgment to safeguard the right to privacy of individuals.

Issuing notice, Justice P S Dinesh Kumar passed an ad-interim order, directing that cable television broadcasts should strictly conform to the terms of 'Programme Code', as defined under Section 5 of the Cable Television Networks (Regulation) Act, read with Rule 6.

The order was passed recently in response to the petition filed by Atma V Hiremath, an advocate and BJP member, seeking direction to the State and Central governments to implement the Supreme Court judgment in relation to Right to Privacy, 'Programme Code' and restrain all media from producing, re-producing, telecasting, broadcasting, publishing, circulating, disseminating content, visual or in any other form, which violates the right to privacy.

Quoting Section 66-E of the Information Technology Act (punishment for violation of privacy) and Section 4 of the Indecent Representation of Women (Prohibition) Act, the petitioner alleged that the statutory authorities have failed to implement these Acts in true letter and spirit.

He contended that broadcasting visuals and programmes based on the release of an alleged video by activist Dinesh Kallahalli is tantamount to extreme violation of privacy of individuals.

It has also led to the exit of the MLA, Ramesh Jarkiholi, from his ministerial post. Media platforms seem to be thriving on such content and are competing for TRPs.

If this is allowed to continue, the MLA will be exposed to similar attacks and left remediless, the petitioner said.

PROHIBITORY ORDER ON BROADCASTS

In view of the court's ad-interim order, City Police Commissioner Kamal Pant, an 'Authorised Officer' under Section 2 of the Cable Television Networks (Regulation) Act, on Tuesday passed an order prohibiting all broadcasts which do not strictly conform to the 'Programme Code', by cable television networks and operators in the city.

2 first-yr PU students held for 17-year-old's murder

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

TWO college students, who allegedly killed a 17-year-old boy in Yeshwantpur on Tuesday, were arrested by the police on Wednesday. Based on the videos recorded by eyewitnesses, the accused were identified and arrested. The two, first-year PU students at a private college, were handed over to a juvenile home after interrogation.

A senior police officer said that the victim, Faiz, was also a first PU student of a private college, and was a resident of Subedarapalya in Yeshwanthpur. The prime accused, a resident of the same area, and his friend, a resident of Laggere, allegedly called up Faiz and asked him to meet them to arrive at a compromise over a trivial issue, the police said. The accused confessed that they had fought with Faiz as he stared at them when they were smoking at a shop at Subedarapalya two days prior to the incident. Faiz had hit them and they wanted to take revenge.

'Officials must visit industrial units to address issues'

GAURAV Gupta, Additional Chief Secretary, Industries and Commerce Department, said the officers should frequently visit industrial units and advise the management and staff on the facilities as well as resolve issues, if any.

After the violent protests, the government had offered all assistance to the firm and the company too had taken corrective measures. The iPhone maker, after an internal investigation, had admitted to lapses and also sacked its India Vice-President Vincent Lee, who was overseeing the operations The company had estimated losses to the tune of Rs 41.2 crore due to the violence in December last year.

Apple said in a statement last month that when the Wistron facility starts its operations, the workers will undergo a training programme to understand their rights and raising concerns. It had earlier put Wistron on probation, stopping further business to the contract manufacturer for violating the company's code of ethics.

Apple had sent independent auditors to investigate the incident in which thousands of workers staged violent protests at the Wistron facility alleging non-payment of dues. Earlier, the Karnataka Government, in a communication to the Centre, had blamed Wistron for not paying workers, specially for the extended working hours, due to a faulty attendance software which showed discrepancies resulting in lesser salary payments. The letter, to the Union Labour Ministry, also pointed out that the employees were marked absent on some days when they attended work and that the payments were not made in time.

BALANCING ACT ON A FRAYING TIGHTROPE IN KARNATAKA

The recently presented Karnataka state budget is a case study in desperation: a balancing act performed on a fraying tightrope by the chief minister, who also holds the finance portfolio. That rope is so frayed that it meant no new promises, except for the one for 'communities' on the side of politics. That's to douse the rising protests, while acting more out of hope than conviction that the economy would recover.

It's an unstated admission that the state is struggling to cope with the devastation wrought by the pandemic—the first deficit budget of ₹15,134 crore in about a decade, confirming what was first flagged in a report by this newspaper. As the jigsaw fell in place, it emerged that the Karnataka Fiscal Responsibility Act, 2002, will have to be amended to balance the books, to allow the fiscal deficit, liabilities and revenue deficit the state can possibly incur to be increased. As it stands, the fiscal deficit has to be under 3% of the GSDP, and liabilities not over 25%, with a mandatory revenue surplus. Tall order that, when B S Yediyurappa has opted to keep taxation under control. No new taxes, not even on liquor. Quite brave, given that fuel and alcohol are the only big taxable items in the state's kitty, post-GST. So the state has little option but to borrow, and heavily, to keep existing welfare schemes and other bread-and-butter sectors running.

BSY has gambled to reduce stamp duty for new housing in the ₹35-45 lakh range, hoping it would spur buying in small housing—with a knock-on effect on the whole economy. It could well turn out to be a trap if the incentive fails to, well, incentivise. The way states have been getting into debt, without the expected revenue coming in from the Centre, we may be staring at a pan-Indian crisis. Karnataka, as we said, is only a case study.

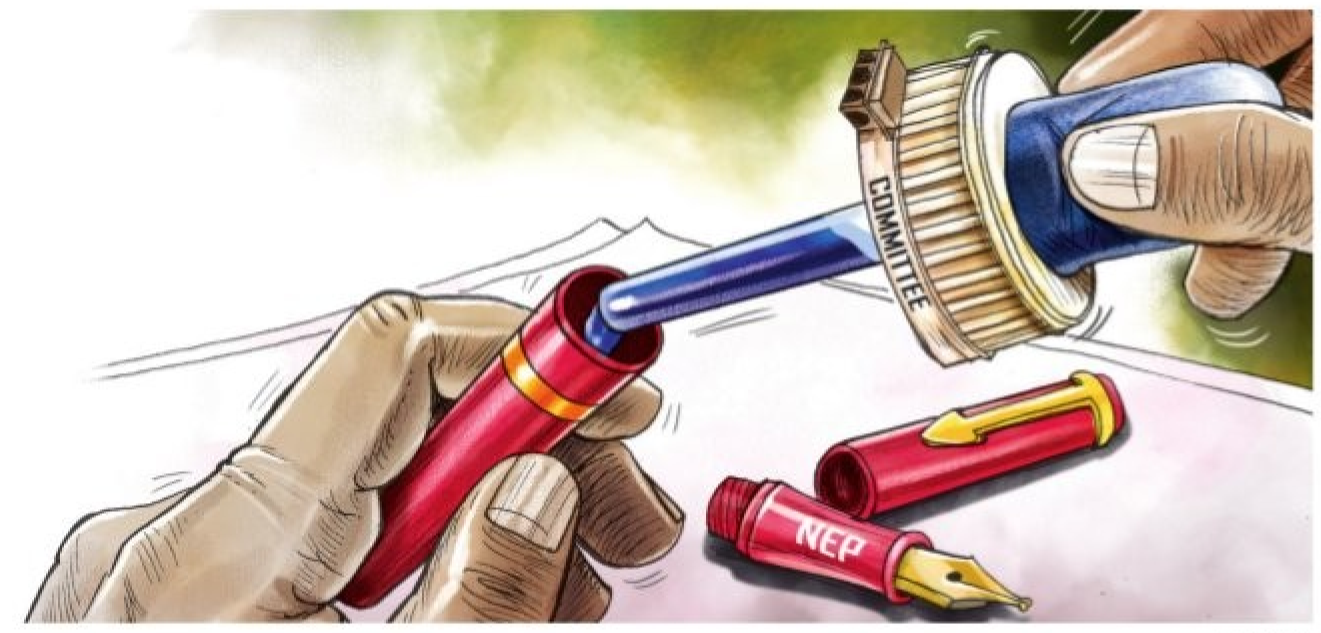
DAMAGE LIMITATION IN UTTARAKHAND

Once bitten twice shy, it is said. This seems to have driven the BJP to sack Uttarakhand Chief Minister Trivendra Singh Rawat with just a year left in his tenure. It is said that the BJP was wary of repeating what happened in Jharkhand, where former chief minister Raghubar Das had become very unpopular. Das was accused of being inaccessible, arrogant and a control freak. This had upset many party members, elected and otherwise, and they had complained about it to the high command. But for some reason, the party refused to change Das and the result was the saffron party's defeat in the 2019 elections in the state. Like Das, Rawat was perceived to be short-tempered, suspicious and dismissive of his party MLAs and leaders. He relied more on the bureaucracy to run the government and kept more than 40 departments to himself, including home, finance and health. Obviously he could not do justice to all of them, resulting in poor governance on many fronts.

The change of guard in Uttarakhand marks a first in the way the BJP top leadership has run the party. It had refused to change CMs even when the satraps have come under fire for their administrative, political and personal lapses. Take for instance the Manipur and Tripura chief ministers. Both faced a strong rebellion and the dissidents lobbied for a change. Tripura Chief Minister Biplab Deb has also often been roasted for his foot in the mouth and immature comments, such as the presence of internet during the days of the Mahabharata. Yet, the BJP leadership persisted with all the CMs, the exception being Rawat. This change of tack is perhaps dictated by the party's thinking, wherein winning elections is paramount. For the saffron party, even panchayat and municipal elections are as important as state and parliamentary polls. With such an outlook, the party was concerned at the growing discontent in its Uttarakhand unit. With anger in the party ranks and a challenge mounted by the Congress and a fledgling AAP, it could ill afford the drift. So in the end, Rawat has only himself to blame for his downfall.

The Centre had announced an NEP that was welcomed by most. The Parliamentary Standing Committee on Education has recently completed a comprehensive review process

REFORM TO TRANSFORM EDUCATION



AMIT BANDRE

VINAY SAHASRABUDDHE

President, ICCR, and BJP Rajya Sabha MP

Education is an extremely demanding sector where reforms after reforms have become the need of the hour. While the government has put its best foot forward by announcing a truly epoch-making National Education Policy (NEP), several aspects of the process of tightening the nuts and bolts always require a relook. An important occasion for such a comprehensive review of education is the discussion of Demands for Grants, as laid down in the Union Budget.

The Parliamentary Standing Committee on Education has recently completed this review process and submitted its report to Parliament. Moving away from the established practice, the Committee has come out with a crisp report, with a slew of implementable recommendations focused on result orientation.

NEP-2020 has the potential of transforming the education sector effectively. The most remarkable feature of this policy is that it has motivated politicians, educationists and opinion-makers to rise above binaries and alluring compulsions of adversarial politics. Obviously, now that it has achieved an otherwise elusive consensus, the real test will be in implementation. Realising this, the Committee has made a far-reaching recommendation calling for "framing definite time-schedules with specific dates for achievement of different tasks and goals as provided in NEP, 2020, to provide a clear roadmap of the implementation schedule of provisions related to School Education in the NEP". Not stopping at that, the Committee has also asked that "the same should be informed to the Committee by 30th June 2021 and uploaded on the website of the Ministry". This is an important overarching recommendation that should provide more impetus to the implementation plan of NEP 2020. Again, without preaching the NEP's importance, the Committee report has suggested that the work about National Curricula and Pedagogical Framework for Early Childhood Care and Education for children up to eight years of age should be completed on priority basis for timely and effective implementation. As far as the need for greater percentage of enrolment in higher education is concerned, the Committee has asked the department to "prepare a well-thought-out plan of action to be implemented in a time-bound manner with key result areas for every phase in order to increase Gross Enrolment Ratio (GER) to 50% as envisaged in NEP, 2020".

The Committee has rightly given priority to inclusive education. The report underscores the need for conducting "a survey to identify districts where the dropout rates of SC, ST and girls are higher than the national average. Based upon the findings, an intervention plan should be chalked out to not only bring back these dropout children to schools but also to provide them vocational education to enhance their livelihood abilities".

Perhaps, for the first time, a report of a Parliamentary panel has stressed on the need to cover children belonging to transgender communities in school education. Similarly, in a recommendation that may have far-reaching impact, the Committee has called for devising a plan "for structured and time-bound efforts to provide the best possible care and quality education to children with every category of special needs to help them become a part of the mainstream". The idea here is to cover children suffering from slow learning, dyslexia and other learning disabilities.

Knowing fully well that different departments have a tendency to work in silos, the Committee has advocated convergence with the Ministries of Rural Development and Jal Shakti, for pooling of resources to ensure supply of safe and contamination-free piped potable water through Nal Se Jal Mission to every educational institution by the end of 2021-22!

Human resources for education and greater impetus to relevant research are two other areas about which the Committee has come out with remarkable recommendations. Taking cognisance of the fact that there are several vacant positions in various government institutions, the Committee has suggested that a special time-bound recruitment drive be conducted. It has also recommended that the department explore the possibility of introducing a Common Exam for appointment of faculty and non-faculty for all centrally funded educational institutions through National Testing Agency (NTA)/UPSC, thereby creating an independent cadre.

On the research front, the Committee calls for enhancing the amount for junior and senior research fellowships. However, its more important recommendation is about a focus on selecting research "themes having national importance as identified after due consultations with different Ministries/organisations". The report has further stressed that the department should conduct a third-party evaluation about the patents and products created by the incubation centre in IITs and assess the job-creation potential as well as other features of the products and services created by the incubated entities, once again stressing the need for greater accountability.

In an out-of-the-box suggestion, the Committee has asked the UGC to explore the possibility of a two-semester component of internship in B.A, B.Com and B.Sc courses in collaboration with industries/start-ups for experience-based learning and on-the-job training. Recommending to the Ministry that the 'Study in India' scheme be strengthened, it has said that suggestions of the Destination India Conference organised by ICCR in Pune last January on the subject of Making India a Hub of Higher Education be taken into consideration seriously. Lastly, also noteworthy are its suggestions about conducting academic programmes in new and emerging technologies and tapping their employment generation potential.

Parliamentary Standing Committees serve as a sounding board and if the majority of the recommendations in this report are taken seriously, reforms in education will truly help transform our society at large.

VETTUVAN KOIL, ABODE OF SIVA THAT IS A SCULPTOR'S PARADISE

R H KULKARNI

Professor, Dept of Art History, College of Fine Arts, Karnataka Chitrakala Parishath

Among South Indian architectural edifices, Vettuvan Koil, a monolithic temple in Tamil Nadu's Kazhugumalai, deserves special mention. A sculptor's paradise, it is a monolithic temple like the Pancha Rathas in Mamallapuram and the Kailasanatha temple in Ellora.

Kazhugumalai, near Kovilpatti in today's Thoothukudi district, is a small village also known for its large structure, the Kazhugachalamurthy temple. Beautiful images of Jain figures carved on rock too are found in the place.

This village was anciently known as Araimalai or Thirumalai. It has been referred to in Pandyan inscriptions as Necchhuram and Tirunecchhuram. Interestingly, the antiquity of the place may be traced back to Megalithic culture. A good number of urn burials found here attest to human habitation here during the Megalithic and successive periods.

Vettuvan Koil was excavated under the patronage of an early Pandyan King Parantakan Nedunjadaiyan. But not much historical information is available about the monolithic structure except for a myth about the artists. According to a popular version, it is said that the monolith was excavated by a father and son. The son began to work from the top and could complete all sculptures, while the father, carving from the bottom, could not finish the work. There was some problem between them that ended in the killing of the son. The lower portion of the monolith is unfinished while the upper portion has been completed with beautiful sculptures. Vettuvan Koil in Tamil means the heaven of sculptors. However, beyond this popular story, the reason for the incomplete work must be something else.

Vettuvan Koil, dedicated to Lord Siva, is a small monument with a rectangular plan. It is excavated about 7.5 metres deep into the rock. The temple has a pavement around the main structure, provided for easy circumambulation. Dated to around 760-800 CE, Vettuvan Koil has a Dravida vimana emerging from the rectangular rock. Unfinished at the lower level, the temple is completed from the roof-kapota portion to the shikhara. The shikhara is an eka-tala vimana with sculptural embellishments on the first level and also on the neck level of the octagonal stupi. On the corners of the stupi are four figures of seated Nandis. Architecturally, the shikhara emerges directly from the kapota (canopy) with frontal projected lions as dentils of its base. The shikhara consists of a beautifully and elaborately carved shala panjara in the centre, followed by karna kutas that have frontally projected chaitya niches. These niches are decorated with exceptionally beautiful sculptures of divinities seated in graceful postures, all around the square form of the shikhara.

The sculptures of Gods are present on the outer face of the shikhara along with gana, apsara and gandharva-yaksha figures. They decorate the abode of Siva and form part of the retinue of the main divinities. The Vettuvan Koil sculptural programme follows the traditions that were well established and the sculptures are found in their prescribed places. Nevertheless, the artists appear to have enjoyed the maximum freedom in sculptural expressions. Sculptures of divinities are carved on all four cardinal directions in front of the stupi: Dakshinamurthy, Umasahita Murti (Siva with Parvati), Narasimha and Brahma. In the first tala, various forms of Siva, Parvati, Skandha and Vishnu are found.

The fascinating aspect of the sculptures is that usually the images are depicted in samabhanga (straight frontal) postures. Here, the sculptures are in asana (seated) postures. It appears that even the iconographic texts are silent about these. The sculpture of Dakshinamurthy is depicted playing the mridangam. It is a rare and unique example of Siva as Dakshinamurthy in the act of playing a percussion instrument. In fact in entire peninsular India, there are no such sculptures hitherto known. Siva is seated on the peetha, right leg folded and kept flat, and the mridangam is kept on it. The left leg is on the apasmara—the ignorance personified as a gana-like figure. Siva Dakshinamurthy has four arms, with the upper hands having a parashu and sarpa. The other sculptures of Siva carved on the first tala are highly graceful and refined in style. The seated posture appears very casual and comfortable. In the figure of Vishnu, an almost similar posture is carved; in his upper hands, He has the shankha and a chakra held in prayoga mudra; the lower right hand has bahubeeja phala and the lower left one is casually kept on the ground. The sculptures of Skanda and Parvati also appear in the same strata of the shikhara. Parvati is seated on the projected space of the tala in a rare posture for a divinity, but one that is common for women in South India. Her right leg is folded up, while the left one is kept flat on the ground. The details and youthful look make the image very serene. Narasimha is seated in leelasana, while Brahma is in padmasana. The sculptures on the shikhara make it an artist's heaven as all of them are carved with a great sense of beauty and creativity.

Vettuvan Koil, in its conception and style of architecture, follows the set typologies of the Kailasanatha temple in Kanchipuram and the Virupaksha Temple in Pattadakal. However, the monolithic temple remains a unique monument because of its beautiful and enchanting images, which possibly inspired some of the sculptures in Ellora's Kailasanatha temple.

India's reaction appropriate

It is appropriate that India summoned the British High Commissioner and expressed its displeasure over a debate on our agricultural reform laws in the UK Parliament. India should not allow any country, however mighty it is, to dictate us on our internal affairs.

Ravi Mannethu, Pullad

UK House free to debate it

There is nothing wrong in the UK's action. Our farm laws are an open book and a discussion on these by the Parliament of a democratic country should be welcomed.

The UK Parliament has no right to interfere in our affairs. It is very unfortunate that vested interests and certain NGOs are trying to tarnish the image of our country.

Mamata sounds the bugle for battle of Nandigram

Files nomination from the seat with eye on large minority vote bank

PRANAB MONDAL @ kolkata

WEST Bengal Chief Minister and Trinamool Congress chief Mamata Banerjee filed her nomination from Nandigram on Wednesday, sounding the bugle for the battle against her once trusted lieutenant Suvendu Adhikari, who defected to the BJP.

Trinamool sources said Mamata's decision to select Nandigram, the Assembly constituency in East Midnapore district where the victory margin in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections was the seventh highest in the state, was triggered by multiple factors.

"The party supremo's decision to contest from Nandigram was necessitated by many electoral issues, right from significant dip in her victory margin in Bhowanipore constituency in previous two polls to challenging Adhikari's Hindutva rhetoric in the minority dominated seat," said a leader.

Mamata Banerjee files nomination from Nandigram on Wednesday | PTI

Among the six seats where margin was higher than Nandigram, two are in Diamond Harbour Lok Sabha constituency from where her nephew Abhishek Banerjee was elected. Sources in the party said she rejected the two seats, Canning Purba and Metiabruz, as it would have handed the BJP another weapon to sharpen its attack on 'nephew' issue.

Two other seats, Basirhat Uttar and Bhangar, are under the Lok Sabha constituencies of Bengali film actors Nusrat Jahan and Mimi Chakrabarty, respectively. "Had she contested from there, the BJP may have accused her of riding the popularity of the actors," said the leader. In Haroa and Deganga, the other seats with high victory margin, the concentration of minority population is not as high as in Nandigram.

Political analysts found Mamata's decision to contest from Nandigram was a well-calculated move. "Minorities form 40 per cent of the electorate in the constituency. Since the TMC has been enjoying minorities' support, a big chunk of votes is expected to go in Mamata's favour. Besides, Adhikari's challenge to defeat her by over 50,000 votes has become a prestige issue. If the BJP's star campaigner fails to win the battle, his political future will be at stake," said Bishnupriya Dutta Gupta, a professor of political science.

AIUDF chief threatens legal action on NGO

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

ASSAM MP and All India United Democratic Front (AIUDF) chief, Maulana Badruddin Ajmal has threatened legal action against those who claimed in an allegedly doctored video that he made anti-national statements.

"The video was released by a fake NGO called LRO (Legal Rights Observatory), with the intention of damaging our election prospects. The doctored video says Mughals ruled India for 800 years and the British ruled it for 200 years. And now, INC-AIUDF will make Assam an Islamic state. This is a 100 per cent fake video," Ajmal told reporters. Vested interests were trying to derail the Congress-AIUDF alliance, he alleged. "It will fail… I will file a case against them," he added.

The LRO tweeted saying a complaint had been lodged with the EC seeking investigation to check the veracity of the speech and take action against Ajmal for his allegedly provocative and seditious comments during a recent election rally.

JNU students' union head to contest on Left ticket

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

AISHE Ghosh, president of the Jawaharlal Nehru University Students' Union, will contest the West Bengal Assembly polls on a Left ticket from Jamuaria constituency in West Burdaman district.

Aishe's name figured in the Left Front's candidate list announced on Wednesday. A resident of Asansol, a neighbouring pocket of Jamuria, Aishe replaced CPM's incumbent MLA Jahanara Khan, who had secured victory with 43.29 per cent vote share in the 2016 Assembly elections. However, the party's performance Jamuria was unimpressive in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections as it bagged only 9.7 per cent votes.

Aishe was severely injured in January when a group of masked men, armed with sticks, had stormed the JNU campus in Delhi and attacked students and teachers and vandalised property. In a video shared on social media, Aishe, who had to be admitted to the AIIMS trauma care centre, was seen crying while bleeding profusely from the head.

Delhi Police had registered an FIR naming nine students, including Ghosh, in connection with the violence. In the FIR, Ghosh was accused of vandalising the university server room and manhandling and threatening guards.

Centre nod to creation of reserve fund for health

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Union cabinet on Wednesday approved the Pradhan Mantri Swasthya Suraksha Nidhi (PMSSN) as a single reserve fund for share of health from the proceeds of health and education cess levied under the Finance Act, 2007.

The Centre said the salient feature of PMSSN is that it is a single, non-lapsable reserve fund for health in the public account and proceeds of share of health in the health and education cess will be credited into it.

The accruals, said the government, into the PMSSN will be utilised for the flagship schemes of the health ministry such as Ayushman Bharat - Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana, Health and Wellness Centres, National Health Mission and Pradhan Mantri Swasthya Suraksha Yojana.

It could also be utilised for emergency and disaster preparedness and responses during health emergencies and any future programmes or schemes that targets to achieve progress towards sustainable development goals and the targets set out in the National Health Policy, 2017.

The administration and maintenance of the PMSSN are entrusted to the health ministry. The expenditure on such schemes of the ministry would be initially incurred from the PMSSN and thereafter, from gross budgetary support.

"The major benefit will be enhanced access to universal and affordable health care through availability of earmarked resources, while ensuring that the amount does not lapse at the end of financial year," maintained the health ministry.

No data on internet shutdowns, religious attacks, MHA tells Parl

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THERE is no centralised data on internet shutdowns in the country and the government also does not maintain national data on attacks on religious institutions, the Ministry of Home Affairs said in the Rajya Sabha on Wednesday.

The ministry also provided details about the methodology to control fake news and misinformation during tensions and riots adding, that internet bans help in stopping rumours. "Information in cyberspace flows fast and has potential of misuse. During tensions and riots, suspension of telecom services/ internet shutdown is done by the appropriate authorities in the States/ UTs concerned in the interest of maintaining public safety and averting public emergency," minister of state for home Nityanand Rai told the House.

In response to a question seeking details of violence against Christians in the last five years, Rai said, "Specific data regarding attacks against against individual communities or on their religious institutions is not maintained centrally." The MHA further said the Unlawful Activities Prevention Act (UAPA) was not used callously against minorities and backward classes. However, statistics shared by it showed a steady rise in invocation of UAPA and sedition laws since 2017. As many as 5,128 cases under UAPA and 229 on charges of sedition have been lodged across India in a five-year period from 2015.

Govt plans 35 model public multi-disciplinary research univs across India

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

THE Union education ministry has prepared an ambitious plan to set up about 35 government universities for multiplanetary research at par with Indian Institutes of technology and the Indian Institutes of Management in most states.

Senior government officials said the draft of the project estimates a cost of ₹100 crore for each university in the first phase and the proposal will be moved to the Union cabinet soon for approval.

The proposal is part of a major policy reform, as envisaged in the National Education Policy adopted by the Centre last year. "Model public universities for holistic and multidisciplinary education, at par with IITs, IIMs, etc., called MERUs (Multidisciplinary Education and Research Universities) will be set up and will aim to attain the highest global standards in quality education," says the NEP.

"Moving to a multidisciplinary regime of higher education is a key theme in the NEP and ball will be set rolling with the approvals of the MERUs," said an official in the higher education department.

Plans are also afoot to establish and strengthen departments in languages, literature, music, philosophy, Indology, art, dance, theatre, education, mathematics, statistics, pure and applied sciences, sociology, economics, sports, translation and interpretation, and other such subjects at all institutes of higher education.

Even engineering institutions, such as IITs, will move towards more holistic and multidisciplinary education with more arts and humanities, the NEP says.

Officials pointed out that the idea is to "phase out single-stream higher education institutes over time while all institutes will be pushed to move towards becoming vibrant multidisciplinary institutions or parts of vibrant multidisciplinary HEI clusters, in order to enable and encourage high-quality multidisciplinary and cross-disciplinary teaching and research across fields."

No-trust motion moved by Congress defeated 32-55 in Haryana, BJP asks opposition to tell farmers to call off stir

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

CM Manohar Lal Khattar speaks during the no-confidence motion at Haryana Assembly in Chandigarh on Wednesday | PTI

THE no-confidence motion moved by Congress against the BJP-JJP led Haryana government was defeated in the Assembly on Wednesday. The ruling coalition won 55-32 when the matter went to votes.

While 39 of the 55 MLAs voting against the motion were from BJP, 10 were from the Jannayak Janta Party. Besides, five independents and one from Haryana Lokhit Party also voted against the motion.

The Congress garnered 30 votes of its MLAs and two from independents Balraj Kundu and Sombir Sangwan, who had earlier withdrawn support from the government.

JJP MLAs Ram Kumar Gautam and Devender Babli, who had been asking their party to withdraw support from BJP, also voted against the no-confidence motion. Gopal Kanda supported the BJP-JJP alliance and voted against the motion.

Leader of Opposition and former CM Bhupinder Singh Hooda had demanded secret voting. The Speaker first asked the members favouring the motion to rise from their seats. Those against it were asked to stand after that. The headcount was taken later.

Hooda claimed the result would have been different had the Speaker had allowed secret voting. He said this was not allowed because the government feared was afraid that some of their MLAs would against them. "If not on the floor of the House, this government has fallen in the eyes of the people. Their MLAs cannot go to their constituencies. The JJP and the independents had a chance to vote against the government and in favour of farmers but they did not. Despite being less on numbers, we (Congress) supported the farmers and voted against this government. In the future also we will be standing with the farmers,'' said Hooda.

Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar said there are no ifs and buts. "The no-confidence motion brought in by the Congress was defeated and the government has won," he said.

> The no-confidence motion brought in by the Congress was defeated and the government has won... Congress has a tradition of distrusting every good initiative of the BJP

Khattar's advice for the Opposition was they should stop instigating the farmers and instead, come forward and tell the agitating thousands to end their agitation. Deputy Chief Minister Dushyant Chautala asssured that the government will protect the interests of farmers. He said mandis and MSP will continue, notwithstanding the Opposition's misleading claims.

Earlier, speaking against the no-confidence motion, Khattar said Congress was a habitual no-confidence party. "We will never earn the trust of the Opposition. The Congress has a tradition of distrusting every good initiative of the BJP government," the CM said.

BJP versus Sena in Lok Sabha on Maharashtra trains

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

LOK Sabha proceedings on Wednesday saw verbal duels between BJP and Shiv Sena, who accused each other of non-cooperation over important infrastructure initiatives like the Mumbai-Ahmedabad bullet train and Mumbai Metro project in Maharashtra.

While Railway Minister Piyush Goyal charged the Uddhav Thackeray-led Mahavikas Aghadi government of stalling the bullet train project, the Shiv Sena accused the Centre of not cooperating with the state dispensation over the Metro car shed project.

Goyal said it was because of the "ego" of the state government that the car shed issue remains unsolved. After the formation of the MVA government, the Shiv Sena changed the Metro car shed site from Aarey to Kanjur. The Kanjur land belongs to the Centre.

Arguments began during Question Hour when Shiv Sena MP Prataprao Jadhav asked whether there are any plans to run a bullet train between Mumbai and Nagpur.

Goyal said: "Decisions were taken swiftly and work also started on it rapidly. World's best technology was brought to India. But I am pained that since the new government was formed in Maharashtra, there is a sort of full-stop to the work," Goyal said.

The minister said the land acquisition started at a fast pace and 95 per cent land of land under the jurisdiction of Gujarat has been acquired. Land from Dadra Nagar Haveli too has been acquired. He said there is still hardly any progress on the Mumbai-Ahmedabad bullet train after the new government came to power in 2019. He said only 24 per cent of land required for the work under the jurisdiction of Maharashtra has been acquired.

Shiv Sena MP Jadhav said the reason why people of Maharashtra oppose the Mumbai-Ahmedabad bullet train is they feel this is a ploy to shift big businesses to Gujarat.

Sticky bombs new headache for J&K Police

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

SECURITY officials are concerned with sticky bombs in possession of militants in Kashmir and forces have revised their Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) and gone on extra alert to deal with the emerging threat.

Inspector General of Police Vijay Kumar confirmed they have reports that sticky bombs have arrived in Kashmir. "We carried out searches to find these sticky bombs in the Valley but so far we have not recovered any such bomb," he said.

It was the first time that a top security official confirmed the presence of sticky bombs with militants in the Valley. "We have alerted security agencies and shared the details with them. I also went to Srinagar airport to show photographs of sticky bombs to CISF men."

He said they have revised SOPs to deal with the threat. "We have also put our men and officials on the ground on extra alert". Over a dozen sticky bombs, which can be attached to vehicles and detonated remotely, were seized by security forces close to the border on February 14. These bombs, which are IEDs with magnetic properties, are mostly used by militants in Afghanistan. The y have also been used in Iraq.

Rajasthan vaccine supply dispute gathers steam

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE tiff between the Congress government and the Centre over supply of Covid-19 vaccines in Rajasthan has escalated into a verbal war. Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot supports his Health Minister Raghu Sharma's claim that inadequate supply from the Centre has led to suspension of the first dose at primary and community health centers from Tuesday. The BJP has hit back, with some party leaders alleging that a 'vaccine scam' may have erupted in Rajasthan.

To counter the claim that there is no shortage of vaccines in Rajasthan, Gehlot said that data circulated by the Centre's was incorrect. "The Health Ministry claimed that Rajasthan received 37.61 lakh vaccines and till yesterday 24.28 lakh vaccines have been administered. This data is completely incorrect. As of March 8, Rajasthan received 31.45 lakh vaccines. Of these, 2.15 lakh have been made available to the Army," Gehlot tweeted in Hindi on Tuesday.

Gehlot's tweet drew a sharp response from BJP. "Gehlot's claims of vaccine shortage are bogus. The Central government says Rajasthan has received 37.61 lakh vaccines but the state is only giving an account of 24.28 lakh. Wonder where the rest disappeared? Hope this government steeped in scams has not created a new scam around the vaccines," said the party's chief spokesperson and MLA Ramlal Sharma.

In a series of tweets on Tuesday night, Gehlot said that Central government officials should be told not to give false information about Rajasthan on vaccines. The CM also claimed that 'delay' in sending vaccines and 'misinformation' on the drive will "hurt people's spirits and disappoint Corona warriors in the state".

Punjab Vigilance Bureau unearths health insurance scam worth crores

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chandigarh

PUNJAB Vigilance Bureau has unearthed a scam running into crores under the Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana-Aushmaan Bharat scheme, in which private hospitals have obtained health insurance claims from insurance company on the basis of fake bills for treatment of patients possessing smart health cards.

DGP-cum-Chief Director of Vigilance Bureau, BK Uppal, said it has came to light that several well known private hospitals in Jalandhar, Hoshiarpur and Kapurthala have prepared hefty fake bills in the names of smart card holders for treatment under Ayushman Bharat scheme and received insurance claims from IFFCO Tokio. The company had rejected hundreds of claims pertaining to government hospitals causing a huge loss to the state exchequer. "A regular vigilance inquiry has been registered to investigate this scam worth crores," Uppal said.

> A regular vigilance inquiry has been registered to investigate this scam worth crores... The Punjab government has incurred financial losses due tio this

> BK Uppal, DGP of Vigilance Bureau

Giving details of preliminary findings, he said several fake bills of private hospitals had been cleared by the insurance company, but reimbursement bills forwarded by government hospitals were rejected. "The Punjab government has incurred financial losses during the last one year from these three districts."

Revealing the modus operandi, he said that a patient named Paramjeet Kaur was admitted to hospital gall bladder stone but did not undergo surgery. In this regard, the hospital prepared a fake bill of ₹22,000 for this patient and claimed reimbursement form IFFCO TOKIO under the Ayushman Bharat health insurance scheme.

Cop removed, CM Thackeray says he's not guilty until proven

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

Assistant Police Inspector Sachin Vaze at the Commissioner's office | PTI

THE Mansukh Hiren death mystery has left the government of Mahasrashtra in a spot of bother. In the face of noise made by BJP in the state Assembly, the government on Wednesday announced that police officer Sachin Waze had been removed from the Crime Intelligence Unit until the completion of the probe.

Vaze had allegedly been in touch with Hiren, whose SUV containing explosives was found near the residence of Mukesh Ambani. Hiren had claimed that his car had been stolen a few days prior to that. Shortly after that, Hiren's body was found in a creek.

Although the BJP has tried to corner the Maha Vikas Aghadi government on this, CM Uddhav Thackeray defended encounter specialist Waze. He said the policeman was not Osama bin Laden and that the guilty will be punished after the inquiry. It can be noted that the Central government has handed over the case to the National Investigative Agency.

Thackeray said the state government cannot punish anyone without proper inquiry. "Police are investigating the case. If the Opposition has any proof or documents regarding this, they should submit it to police. They will verify it and conduct further inquiry. We are not here to defend anyone but to follow the law," he said.

Ganga Gallery to add to Kashi Vishwanath charm

Redefining the panoramic view and grace of the free-flowing Ganga, the Kashi Vishwanath Dham (corridor) will now have a giant 80m long and 11m wide platform with ghats on its side. The Ganga View Gallery, as it will be known, is set to add to the charm of Kashi Vishwanath Dham. The new feature has become possible after the demolition of a dilapidated structure. The space created has given a chance to make changes in the approved design of the corridor project even after completion of over 30 per cent construction. It has enabled the alignment of approach roads from access points near Manikarnika, Jalasen and Lalita Ghats to KV Dham, making it more convenient for visitors.

The municipal performance index took into account 20 parametres including education, health, water and wastewater management, solid waste management and sanitation, registration and permits, infrastructure, revenue management, digital governance and digital literacy.

Delivery blues for zoo hippopotamus

Aashi, the 24-year-old female hippo in Lucknow zoo, is suffering. Despite having consistent pangs of labour, she has been not been able to deliver for over a month. On February 4, she appeared to be ready for delivery when she passed amniotic fluid. She gave up eating for a brief period after that, but this is considered to be a normal behaviour with animals when they are about to deliver. But she could not give birth this time either. The poor creature has been suffering since February 5. Zoos from all over India, and across the world for that matter, seem to have no solution to Aashi's problems.

Recipient of vaccine at ripe old age of 103

Mahabir Prasad Maheshwari is 103 years old. The resident of Sector 12 in Noida is possibly the oldest person in the city to get the Covid-19 vaccine shot. Born on July 22 in 1917, according to his Aadhaar card record, Maheshwari was just a year old when the previous pandemic, the Spanish Flu, rattled the globe in 1918. He has some prostrate issues and a hearing impairment. But considering his age, this former businessman who has three sons and four daughters is a fit, old man. On Tuesday, along with two of his sons, daughters-in-law and son-in-law, Maheshwari went to Kailash Hospital to take the jab. Before him, there were reports of two persons above 100 taking the shot in Delhi.

Myanmar's security forces storm quarters of striking rail workers

3 reportedly held; brutal force used in Yangon, other cities against protesters

YANGON

MYANMAR security forces on Wednesday raided a neighbourhood in the country's largest city that houses state railway workers who have gone on strike to protest last month's military coup.

Police sealed off the Mingalar Taung Nyunt neighbourhood in Yangon where the Ma Hlwa Kone train station and housing for railway workers are located.

Photos and video on social media showed officers blocking streets and what was said to be people escaping. At least three arrests were reported, but couldn't immediately be confirmed. There was no apparent resistance to the raid, and local media reported that the authorities forced at least some residents from their homes.

Later on Wednesday, police fired warning shots, tear gas, stun grenades and live rounds in other areas of Yangon to disperse protesters.

In North Okkalapa, press and social media reports said at least 200 people were arrested. About 400 young people who were detained in mass arrests a week ago are believed to still be behind bars.

The raid on rail workers comes just days after several Myanmar unions, including the Myanmar Railway Worker's Union Federation, issued a joint call for a nationwide work stoppage. They said the strike would be part of a broader effort for "the full, extended shutdown of the Myanmar economy."

Despite the increasingly violent tactics of security forces, protests continued Wednesday in cities and towns across the country, including Yangon, Mandalay, Monywa, Dawei, Myitkyina, Myitkyina, Bago, Kalaw and Myingyan.

Some were met with police force, while others were brief and violence-free. Riot police in Dawei fired tear gas, forcing marchers to disperse and hide. There were also reports of the use of rubber bullets. No injuries have been confirmed. AP

SRI LANKA INVITES JUNTA TO REGIONAL MEET, DRAWS FLAK

Colombo: Sri Lanka has invited the new foreign minister of Myanmar's junta to a meeting of Bay of Bengal Initiative for Multi-Sectoral Technical and Economic Cooperation next month, sparking accusations on social media that Colombo is tacitly endorsing the military coup. There has been no formal international recognition of the regime which toppled Aung San Suu Kyi on February 1 although Wunna Maung Lwin, the junta's newly appointed foreign minister, has met virtually and physically with some regional counterparts.Several Myanmar activists bombarded the Sri Lankan foreign ministry's social media platforms to slam the decision.

Anti-Big Tech advocate is Biden's favourite for key post

WASHINGTON

US President Joe Biden plans to nominate a prominent advocate of breaking up Big Tech firms to a key regulatory post, suggesting an aggressive antitrust stance, media reports said on Tuesday.

The reports said Lina Khan —a Columbia University law professor who has suggested antitrust laws could be interpreted to break up tech titans —would be named to the Federal Trade Commission, an agency with some authority over mergers and antitrust policy. Pakistan-origin Khan's appointment would follow the naming of Tim Wu, another Big Tech critic, to an economic advisory post in the White House.

Morgan quits hosting TV show after 41K complaints over Meghan criticism

LONDON

BRITISH television host Piers Morgan on Tuesday left his role presenting ITV's popular breakfast show Good Morning Britain, shortly after sparking 41,000 complaints and storming off the set in a row over Meghan Markle."Following discussions with ITV, Piers Morgan has decided now is the time to leave Good Morning Britain," the network said in a statement."ITV has accepted this decision and has nothing further to add," the network said. Morgan has been a vocal critic of Markle ever since she cut off contact with him after she met Prince Harry, and he launched a scathing attack on her following the couple's interview with Oprah Winfrey.

The former CNN host said he did not believe Markle when she said at one point she "didn't want to be alive anymore", sparking a deluge of complaints.

Barely a day after his remarks, regulator Ofcom said it had already received more than 41,000 complaints.

Morgan also stormed off the set on Tuesday morning after clashing with fellow presenter Alex Beresford over the interview. Beresford told Morgan "I understand you've got a personal relationship with Meghan Markle, or had one, and she cut you off.

"She's entitled to cut you off if she wants to. Has she said anything about you since she cut you off? I don't think she has but yet you continue to trash her," he added, leading to Morgan's departure. Later, reports emerged that Meghan Markle filed a formal complaint with British broadcaster ITV over Morgan's claims.

LIC shares may be priced between ₹400-600

The government plans to hold at least 75 per cent of LIC's equity for the first five years following the planned IPO

ANURADHA SHUKLA @ New Delhi

THE share prices of Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) may be priced between ₹400-600 a share when the public sector-juggernaut finally launches an initial public offering (IPO). Going by the first internal valuation made by the government, the Centre is expecting to mop up ₹90,000 crore-₹1 lakh crore, government sources said.

"According to the internal valuation of its overall assets and embedded valuation, the price range is likely to be between ₹400-600 per share," a finance ministry source said.

The official went on to point out that the price band has been estimated after taking into account both current market conditions and "downside risks". However, Milliman Advisors, which is to determine the embedded value of LIC, is yet to give a final report.

"Unless there is big disruption in the market, the IPO will be in the same range, even with some downside risk. However, the final report is likely in July this year. So, the picture will be pretty clear by then. The target is to raise ₹90,000 crore-₹1 lakh crore," another official said.

The disinvestment of shares in LIC is among the most ambitious IPOs planned by the Government of India. Currently, the government owns a 100 per cent stake in LIC. Once it is listed on the markets, however, LIC is likely to become the country's biggest company by market capitalisation with an m-cap of ₹8-10 lakh crore.

The much awaited IPO is expected to hit the market by the last quarter of this year, according to divestment secretary Tuhin Kant Pandey's comments in various post-budget media interviews.

According to the proposed amendments tabled in the parliament, the government plans to hold at least 75 per cent in LIC's equity for the first five years after the IPO. After which this can be diluted further to 51 per cent in a phased manner. Government officials say that up to 10 per cent of the LIC IPO issue size would be reserved for LIC policyholders.

IDBI Bank sheds PCA tag, but conditions apply

SESA SEN @ New Delhi

AFTER nearly four years, private sector lender IDBI Bank has exited the Prompt Corrective Action (PCA) framework—where banks with weak financial metrics are placed to be kept under close watch by the country's banking regulator.

On Wednesday, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) said that the decision to let the bank exit PCA was taken following an improvement in its financial performance. The lender has been able to fulfil three out of four key criteria needed to exit the PCA framework, as per its latest earnings report. The lender was no longer in breach of RBI thresholds on regulatory capital, bad loans, and leverage ratio. The only condition it had not fulfilled was recording positive Return on Asset ratios (RoA) for a full year. However, its RoA has been in the positive territory for three quarters.

"The performance of IDBI Bank Limited was reviewed by the Board for Financial Supervision (BFS)... It was noted that as per published results for the quarter ending December 31, 2020 the bank is not in breach of the PCA parameters on regulatory capital, net NPA and leverage ratio," the RBI notification said.

The central bank also said that IDBI Bank has committed to complying with these parameters on an ongoing basis and apprised the regulator of the structural and systematic improvements that it had put in place. "Taking all the above into consideration, it has been decided that IDBI Bank be taken out of the PCA framework, subject to certain conditions and continuous monitoring," RBI said.

IDBI Bank had been placed under the PCA system in May 2017, which had entailed restrictions on lending and expansion.

Its outstanding gross bad loan ratio, which was among the highest in the industry, has eased in recent quarters, but the number remains high at 23.52 per cent. Net NPA ratio, however, has improved to 1.94 per cent against 5.25 per cent. Provision Coverage Ratio, a key financial parameter, improved to 97.08 per cent in the third quarter from 92.41 per cent in the previous fiscal, while its leverage ratio stood at 5.71 per cent, above the 4 per cent threshold.

Delhi HC stays removal of Nexon EV from subsidy list

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Delhi High Court on Wednesday granted interim relief to Tata Motors by directing a stay against the delisting of the company's Nexon EV model from the Delhi government's list of vehicles eligible for EV subsidies. The High Court has granted time to the Delhi government to file a counter affidavit in the matter.

The court's decision comes as a huge relief for Tata Motors since the Delhi state government had, on March 1, delisted Tata Nexon's electric model from its electric vehicle (EV) subsidy scheme. The government had said it had done so after complaints over the model's "sub-standard" performance. According to the order issued by Delhi's Transport Department to Tata Motors, the EV model 'Tata Nexon EV model XZ+' could not provide the promised specified range of 312 km in a single charge, adding that a commuter had complained that the EV had never provided a range of more than 200 km.

Launched in January 2020 and priced at ₹14-16.4 lakh, the Nexon EV is now India's largest selling electric four-wheeler. Its success is not only attributed to competitive cost but also to the huge subsidy it receives under various EV policies that goes up to ₹3 lakh per vehicle.

Responding to the Delhi government's action, Tata Motors had said that the range at single full charge (312 km) "is basis the certification received from the Automotive Research Association of India (ARAI)... As with conventional vehicles, the actual range achieved in EVs is dependent on AC usage, individual driving style and the actual conditions in which the vehicle is driven".

SCRUTINY OVER TELCO GEAR TIGHTENED

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

Govt oversight to plug security holes

Following the amendments to the licence norms, the designated National Cyber Security Coordinator will have the right to impose conditions for the procurement of telecom equipment on the grounds of defence or national security

THE Indian government on Wednesday amended telecom licence norms in an effort to increase its oversight over the network equipment procured by telecom service providers (TSP). Starting June 15, 2021, all telecom licence holders may only use equipment procured from a list of vetted "trusted sources".

Though the new rules will not apply to existing infrastructure, TSPs will require government approval when they upgrade such networks that utilise equipment not designated as "trusted". Ongoing annual maintenance contracts or updates to existing equipment already inducted in the network as on June 15 will also not be affected.

The move follows a year of increased tensions with China and the government has initiated efforts to limit equipment of Chinese origin in critical segments such as telecom. China is currently one of the largest sources of telecom network equipment used in the country.

In the notification amending the Unified Access Services Licence Agreement, the Union government's Department of Telecom (DoT) said the government will, through a National Cyber Security Coordinator, "have the right to impose conditions for procurement of telecom equipment" on the grounds of defence or national security.

"With effect from June 15, 2021, the licensee shall only connect trusted products in its network and also seek permission from the designatd authority for upgradation of existing networks utilising equipment not designated as trusted products," the notification said.

The licencees will also be required to provide "any information as and when sought" by the authority.

According to the new conditions, the NCSC will notify the list of trusted sources for specific categories of equipment and may also produce a "list of designated sources from whom no procurement can be done". Last summer, following the rise of border tensions, the Centre had barred public sector companies from procuring equipment originating in nations that shared a land border with India.

Overall PV sales during Apr-Feb period even lower than FY16 mark

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DESPITE reporting year-on-year growth for the seventh straight month in February, passenger vehicle (PV) wholesales so far this fiscal (April-February FY2021) stand lower than levels seen in FY2015-16.

According to the latest numbers released by the Society of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM), PV sales in February 2021 grew by 17.92 per cent year-on-year to 281,380 units. However, sales of PVs between April-February this fiscal is still lower by 10.35 per cent Y-o-Y—mainly due to the strict lockdown observed during the April-June quarter.

Rajesh Menon, Director General, SIAM said, "In the month of February 2021, 2.81 lakhs Passenger Vehicles were sold, clocking a CAGR growth of just 3.29 per cent over the previous highest sales, recorded in the month of February 2018, of 2.55 lakh. In February 2020, the total sales were 2.39 lakh. Total sales from the April to February period for PVs were still below 2015-16 levels."

Even though the industry has seen signs of growth in the past few months, production has been impacted by a global shortage of semi-conductors. On Tuesday, dealer association body Federation of Automobile Dealers' Associations (FADA) said that 50 per cent of PV dealers had lost more than 20 per cent of sales recently due to a non-availability of vehicles.

Ratings agency Crisil on Wednesday forecast that India's automobile sector would post a double-digit growth next fiscal year after two years of sluggishness. According to Crisil, PV sales are expected to grow 23-25 per cent in FY22 (over FY2021) to 3.3-3.4 million units. This projected figure will be on par with FY18 and FY19 sales numbers.

Meanwhile, two-wheeler wholesales grew by 10.20 per cent y-o-y in February 2021. "As far as two-wheelers are concerned 14.27 lakh units were sold in February 2021, which results in a de-growth of 5.41 per cent CAGR from the previous highest sales in the month of February, in the year 2018 of 16.86 lakh," Menon said.

10.35% y-o-y fall in PV sales in Apr-Feb 2021	17.92% y-o-y PV sales growth in Feb 2021

Housing sales expected to fall 34% this fiscal year

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delh

HIT hard by the Covid-19 pandemic, housing sales volumes are likely to fall by a sharp 34 per cent year-on-year in FY21. However, the next fiscal year (FY22) is expected to see the number jump back by 30 per cent, according to a India Ratings and Research (Ind-Ra) report released on Wednesday.

Despite this, the agency predicts that overall sales in FY22 could still be around 14 per cent lower than FY20 levels.

Next year's growth in housing sales will primarily be supported by an improvement in affordability and declining interest rates, Ind-Ra said. "Affordability (as measured by the ratio of house price index and salary index) has steadily improved since FY15, as the average increase in salaries well exceeded the average increase in house prices... Apart from a lower ratio of house price to salary, a lower interest rate environment is likely to improve the affordability of house ownership as mortgage rates decline," it said.

Last week, private sector lender ICICI Bank had reduced home loan interest rates to 6.7 per cent for home loans up to ₹75 lakh, the lowest in 10 years. SBI, Kotak Mahindra Bank, and mortgage lender HDFC had also announced a similar reduction in home loan interest rates.

Packaging sector seeks ban on kraft paper exports as domestic supply takes a dive

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

SOUTH India Corrugated Box Manufacturers' Association (SICBMA) has urged the Centre to impose an immediate ban on the export of kraft paper in any form—the main raw material in the production of corrugated boxes— in order to save SMEs engaged in the sector from closure.

The SICBMA has claimed that supply of kraft paper has shrunk by over 50 per cent in the local market over the recent few months, hitting production and threatening to send hundreds of SMEs in the regions of Tamil Nadu and Puducherry packing.

Corrugated boxes (also known as carton boxes) are a key packaging material for pharma, FMCG, food products, automobiles, and electrical appliances, among others. Tamil Nadu and Puducherry have close to 2,000 manufacturers—predominantly Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises—of corrugated boxes.

Though demand for the boxes is steadily growing post Covid, manufacturers have not been able to ensure supply, since thousands of tonnes of kraft paper are leaving Indian shores for export markets, leaving the local industry high and dry, the association said. The severe shortage, coupled with an 65 per cent increase in the price of kraft paper, has hit manufacturers hard.

Mobile shopping to drive e-commerce up 84% by 2024

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

MOBILE shopping will push up India's e-commerce sector by a whopping 84 per cent to reach $111 billion by 2024, a new report by global tech leader FIS said.

The report, which captured changing consumer behavior due to the pandemic, noted that while digital wallets and buy-now-pay-later options are taking the world by storm, legacy methods such as cash and credit cards have begun to take a backseat.

Skyrocketing digital commerce has, in fact, received a boost from the pandemic with the convergence of physical and technology channels. Mobile shopping has been estimated to grow by 24 per cent annually in India alongside a massive growth in smartphone users and access to cheap data. The FIS report noted that digital wallets (40 per cent) followed by credit cards (15 per cent) and debit cards (15 per cent) were the most popular payment methods online in 2020.

In the future, 47 per cent of all online purchases in India are expected to be made through digital wallets.

Cash payments have been continually declining since 2019 and will be the least used transaction method in the near future, the report added. Buy Now, Pay Later is also the fastest growing online payment method in India. Currently only 3 per cent of the market, based on an analysis of the report, it is projected to increase to 9 per cent by 2024.

Axis Bank unveils new contactless wearable payment devices

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PRIVATE sector lender Axis Bank on Wednesday became the first bank in India to launch its own range of wearable contactless payment devices.

These wearable devices are directly linked to the customers' bank accounts and function like a regular debit card, allowing purchases at any merchant store which accepts contactless transactions. Users do not need to carry their smartphones and wallet for payments anymore, the bank said.

Christened 'Wear N Pay', these devices come in different forms of wearables—like a band, key chain, or watch loop—and are available at a price starting at ₹750. The devices also offer several features including a 10 per cent cashback, offers across dining partners, and fraud liability cover of up to 100 per cent of the purchase limit.

"With the increasing number of digital payments users, we see a huge opportunity in contactless payments, which will continue to grow, given the post pandemic situation and the need for social distancing. Contactless payments are the future of the payments industry in India," said Sanjeev Moghe, executive Vice-President & Head-Cards & Payments, Axis Bank.

The bank has partnered with Thales and Tappy Technologies to design and create these products, which are exclusively available on the Mastercard platform, it said in a release. Axis Bank added that the 'Wear N Pay' devices can be purchased via phone banking or at any Axis Bank branch and transactions up to ₹5,000 can be done without any PIN by waving the device at a PoS machine.

Non-customers can acquire the device by opening an account either online through Video KYC or by visiting their nearest Axis Bank branch.

Commenting on the wearable devices, Emmanuel de Roquefeuil, Vice President and Country Director, Thales, India said, "The current time is apt to discover new secure payment methods and here contactless wearables arise as an optimal alternative. We look forward to unleashing the full digital potential of our customers".

Kohli & Co spoilt for choice in bowling, playing three spinners and three pacers will provide India good balance

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

UNLESS Ravichandran Ashwin comes back into the T20 scheme of things, the off-spinner's slot is the only department that India don't have a competition going into the series against England. Given Washington Sundar's stock is increasing with each outing, it will be justified should the selectors and the team management don't look beyond the 21-year-old, who bowls economically in the powerplay, and can also add depth to the batting department.

That India are now dealing with the embarrassment of riches is well documented. That it has spilled over to the bowling unit too just tells you how there is absolutely no place for complacency. That is the reason why two days before the start of the T20I series against England, Varun Chakravarthy's failed fitness test isn't making as much noise as it should be. Twice in four months, the mystery spinner finds himself unfit despite making the India squad. In a team where opportunities are hard to come by, Varun may have already pulled the curtains down before his international career has even started. Thanks to the variety he offers, India were keen on testing what he can bring to the table.

Like the batting department, India have already started to look beyond those who are not going to fit in their plans for the T20 World Cup. Kuldeep Yadav, who hasn't been able to make the sort of impact other spinners have had in IPL, is already off their radar. In the pace department where India are looking for three different skill sets, Mohammed Siraj doesn't seem to be in their plans.

They are no longer looking to play not more than two bowlers who can be a liability with the bat. It is evident in the way they going about their squad these days. And it is more evident with the XI they pick. While they may not necessarily be looking at an all-rounder at No 9, they still prefer a bowler who can hit at least a couple of boundaries if need be. And that is why Yuzvendra Chahal now has competition from Rahul Tewatia.

Key to their plans is Hardik Pandya. Other than providing balance with his presence in the XI, his bowling can also help India decide whether to play an extra seamer or a spinner. "Of course he's (Pandya) been an integral part of the squad. He has been working on his bowling and batting, trying to sharpen those skill sets. It's been a good month and a half that he's been with the team in order to get ready for this limited series. He's done pretty much everything so it seems that time has come for him to get ready and start doing what he does," India's vice-captain Rohit Sharma said.

Playing the World Cup at home means, India are looking to strike a good balance in their bowling department. Three spinners and three pacers (including Pandya) will not only provide them with options, but also get the job done even if one of them has an off-day. Other than Jadeja, who is a certainty, Washington looks closer to be regular with one among Chahal, Tewatia and Rahul Chahar fighting for the third spinner's slot.

However, it is in the pace department that India will have their biggest selection headache. While Bumrah takes one slot, the other one or two depending on the condition will see one among these in the scheme of things. But before that, this England series and the ones before the T20 World Cup will see these pacers pitted against each other. Bhuvneshwar Kumar vs Deepak Chahar, Shardul Thakur vs Navdeep Saini, Mohammed Shami vs T Natarajan.

All eyes on openers ahead of K'taka-Mumbai clash

ASHIM SUNAM @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA vs Mumbai: It does not get any better than this. Two domestic giants and in-form teams of the Vijay Hazare Trophy are set for a big semifinal clash at the Airforce Complex Ground in Palam, Delhi on Thursday.

Both the teams topped their respective groups after playing quality cricket to reach the quarterfinals. However, the match is going to be mostly about three in-form openers of the competition. Karnataka's Devdutt Padikkal (673 runs) and Ravikumar Samarth (605) are first and second in the run-scorers list, while Mumbai's Prithvi Shaw (589) is third.

These batsmen have played an important role in their team's dominant show so far. In fact, Padikkal has scored four hundreds on a trot while Samarth has three tons.

"Our top-order has been in terrific form and we will once again be banking on them to deliver the goods. The plan is for one of them to play anchor and other to attack. So far it has worked and we'll be sticking to the same. Samarth has led from the front while the young Devdutt has shown why he's been rated so highly," said Karnataka coach Yere Goud.

It would not be wrong to say Karnataka might have an edge over their opponents with some of Mumbai's big players missing. Shreyas Iyer, Suryakumar Yadav and Shardul Thakur are on international duty. It means, besides Shaw, they will need the likes of Shivam Dube and others to get their game together in the semifinal. Goud is in no mood to take them lightly, especially when they have a genuine match-winner in the form of Shaw, who is in top form.

Covid tests in airport delay Indian wrestlers' departure

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

A FEW women wrestlers along with their head coach Kuldeep Malik and a couple of Greco-Roman grapplers were forced to miss their flight due to Covid-19 tests at the airport in Rome. This despite the team carrying a negative test report done at the hotel as per protocol. According to a wrestler, the airlines wanted another rapid test before boarding the flight.

The wrestlers were heading back home after participating in the Matteo Pellicone Ranking Series held in the city from March 4 to 7. These wrestlers along with their support staff were allowed to board a next flight, but a layover of around 22 hours at Amsterdam meant the journey took around 48 hours to complete.

"We were supposed to board the flight on Monday morning. However, on reaching the airport we were told that we have to undergo a test and will be allowed to board only if the report comes negative," said one of the wrestlers. While most from the Indian contingent including Bajrang Punia managed to undergo the tests and obtain negative reports in time, Malik, some women wrestlers and two from the Greco-Roman style could not complete the process.

Warmer oceans could kill baby sharks, experts say

Shark populations are already plunging globally, with research pointing to a staggering 70% fall in numbers in the past 50 years

SCIENCE

A baby epaulette shark | AFP

PORTLAND: The warming of worldwide oceans from climate change means baby sharks are at risk of being born smaller and without the energy they need to survive, a group of scientists has found.

The scientists, who conducted the work in connection with the New England Aquarium, studied epaulette sharks, which live off Australia and New Guinea. They found that warmer conditions sped up the sharks' growing process, and that meant they hatched from eggs earlier and were born exhausted.

The study has implications for other sharks, including those that give birth to live young, said John Mandelman, vice president and chief scientist of the Anderson Cabot Center for Ocean Life at the New England Aquarium. The scientists published their findings in the journal Scientific Reports earlier this year.

"There's this perception they are very hardy. What it means is this very resilient species is more vulnerable than we thought, and this could be true of other sharks," Mandelman said. "We need to be especially vigilant about managing them under these changing conditions."

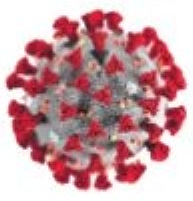
The scientists performed the work by using the aquarium's breeding program for the sharks. They raised 27 of the sharks under either average summer conditions, or about 27ºC, or in temperatures predicted for later in the century, including about 29ºC and about 31ºC.

They found that the sharks reared in the warmest temperatures weighed significantly less than those raised in average temperatures, and they exhibited reduced metabolic performance. The group wrote that epaulette sharks are well known among scientists for their hardiness, so the negative impacts of warming raises a troubling question: "If epaulette sharks cannot cope with, in this case, thermal stress, how will other, less tolerant species fare?"

Epaulette sharks are small bottom-dwelling sharks that can grow to be 3 feet long. Harmless to humans, they're named for large spots above pectoral fins that resemble military shoulder ornaments. The sharks are listed as stable and a species of "least concern" on the IUCN Red List of Threatened Species.

The sharks in the epaulette study survived, but those raised in warmer temperatures emerged in poor shape to make it for long in the wild, said lead study author Carolyn Wheeler, a PhD candidate at the University of Massachusetts Boston and at at James Cook University in Australia.

Higher pollen can raise risk of Covid-19



SPACE

BERLIN: Higher concentration of airborne pollen is associated with increased novel coronavirus infection rates, according to a study in the PNAS journal that used data from 31 countries across five continents.

Researchers said that people in high-risk groups can protect themselves by watching pollen forecasts and wearing dust filter masks.

The team showed that airborne pollen can account for, on average, 44 per cent of the variation in infection rates, with humidity and air temperature also playing a role in some cases.

During intervals without lockdown regulations, infection rates were on average four per cent higher with every increase of 100 grains of airborne pollen per cubic meter. The study's data was mostly from Europe.

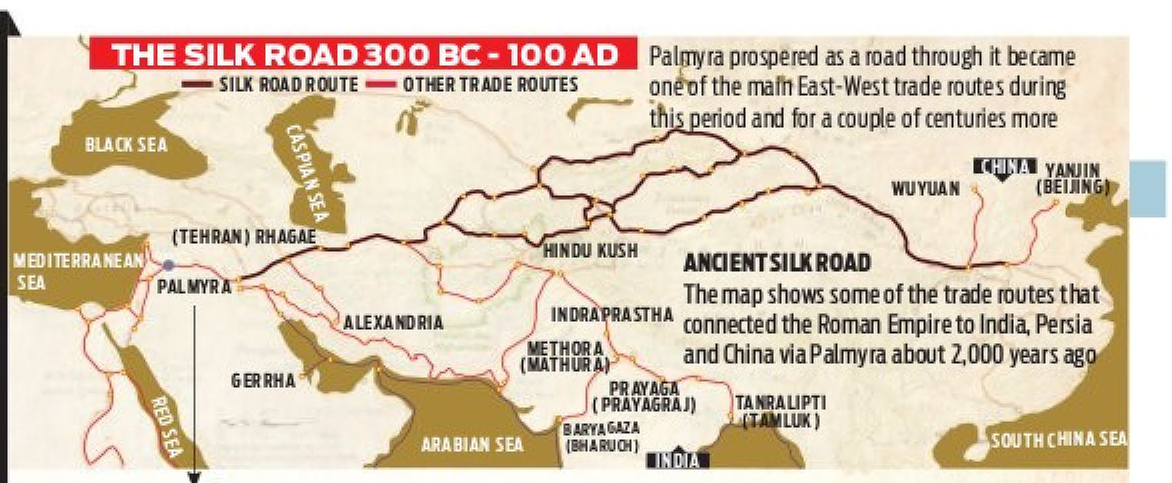
THE SACKING OF PALMYRA

Syria was an archaeologist's paradise, a world heritage home to some of the oldest and best-preserved jewels of ancient civilisations. A brutal war that engulfed the country in 2011, one of the worst conflicts of the 21st century, has brought wanton destruction to the country's heritage. We trace back the violent history of one Syrian city, Palmyra, and list below some of the architectural treasures that were destroyed by ISIS jihadists

THE SILK ROAD 300 BC - 100 AD



Palmyra prospered as a road through it became one of the main East-West trade routes during this period and for a couple of centuries more

ANCIENT SILK ROAD

The map shows some of the trade routes that connected the Roman Empire to India, Persia and China via Palmyra about 2,000 years ago

PALMYRA

Palmyra is a majestic ancient city whose influence peaked towards the end of the Roman empire. Here's a timeline of the city's tumultous past

2000–1001 BC

PALMYRA BEGAN AS A CARAVAN OASIS

150AD

It had grown into a city and was colonised by the Roman Empire. Palmyra stood at a route that linked India, Persia and China with Rome, regions home to the major civilisations of the ancient world

260AD

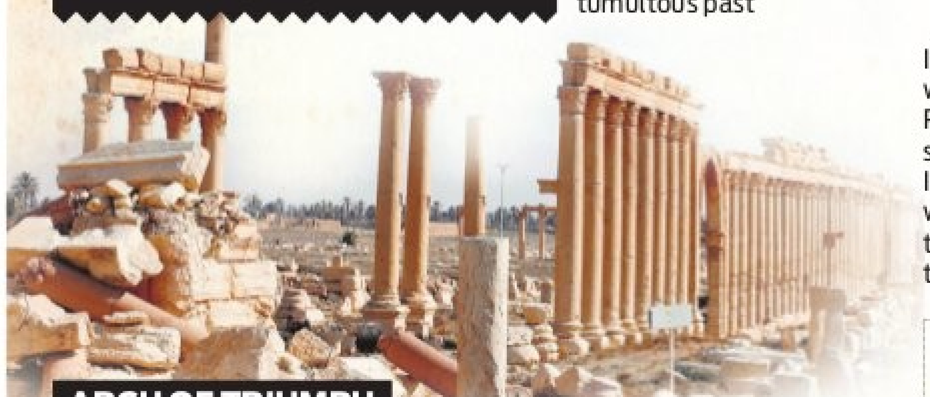
This was the height of the city's prosperity. The city was famously ruled by Queen Zenobia, who defied Rome. Few years later, an angry Roman emperor, Aurelian, burned Palmyra to the ground

1400 AD

The Mongol conqueror Tamerlane, a self-styled heir of Genghis Khan, put the regrown city to the sword. Palmyra's importance as a trading centre had declined by then

2015 AD

ISIS jihadists hurtled into Palmyra to expand the "caliphate" they had proclaimed over parts of Syria and Iraq a year earlier. The sacked the ancient city, also known as "The Venice of the Sands", and defaced statue and sarcophagi. The site became a stage for public executions and other gruesome crimes. The headless body of chief archaeologist Khaled al-Asaad was also displayed there by ISIS henchmen who had tortured him to get him to reveal where the site's artefacts had been transferred



ARCH OF TRIUMPH

1,100 METRES

Palmyra's imposing kilometre-long colonnade is unique and one of Syria's most recognisable landmarks

> Places like Palmyra have a universal significance and value. They are part of our world civilisation, they are milestones in our history as humans and so anything that damages them is a wound for all humanity
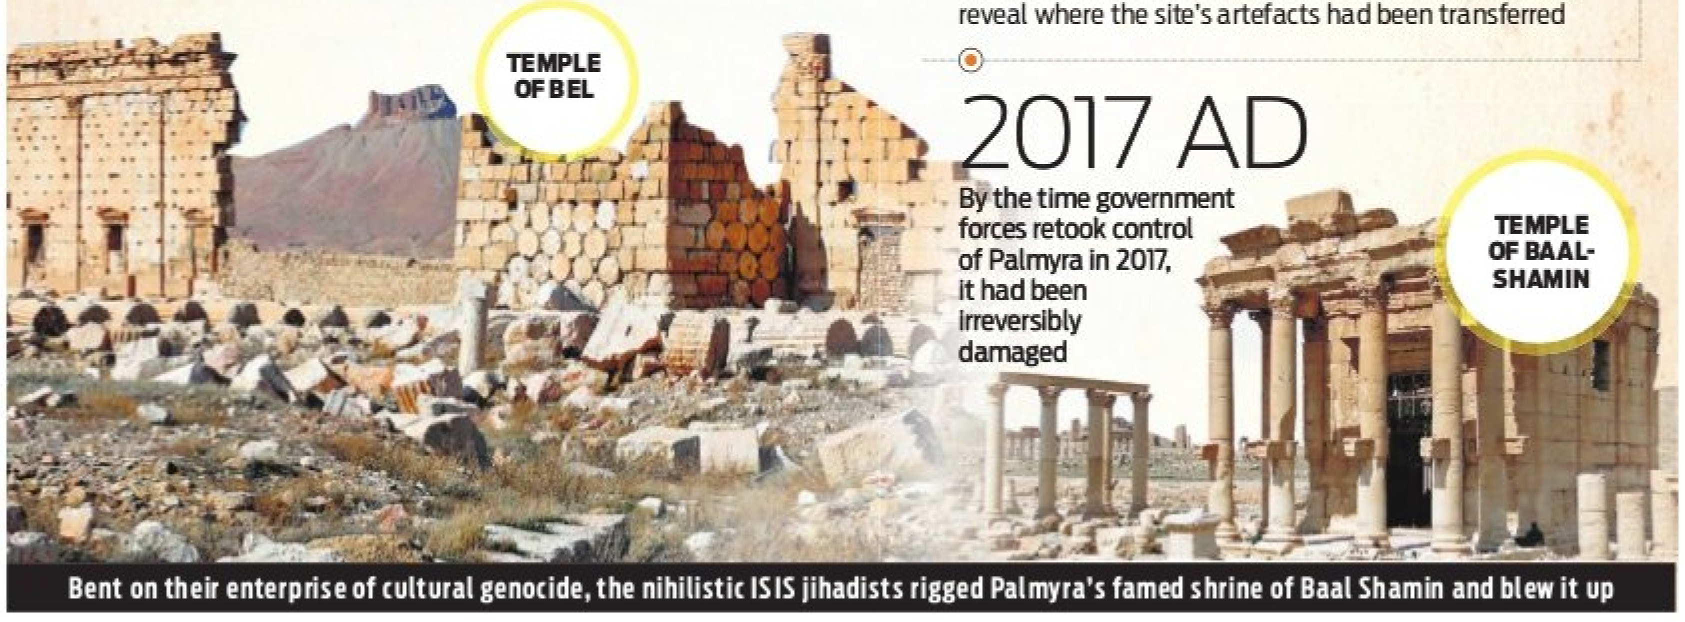
>
> Justin Marozzi, historian, told AFP

2017 AD

By the time government forces retook control of Palmyra in 2017, it had been irreversibly damaged



Bent on their enterprise of cultural genocide, the nihilistic ISIS jihadists rigged Palmyra's famed shrine of Baal Shamin and blew it up

Facial ID payments in supermarkets

TECHNOLOGY

MOSCOW: From cameras crisscrossing the city to payment systems popping up at metro gates and supermarket checkouts, facial recognition is rapidly taking root in Moscow.

The initiative has gained ground since the start of the coronavirus pandemic, with authorities using it as a tool to enforce lockdown measures while Russians increasingly turn to contactless payments.

But as the network grows with plans to expand across Russia, the technology is celebrated by some while alarming rights activists who warn about creeping state surveillance.

The latest development came Wednesday, as the country's leading food retailer X5 group announced the rollout of a facial recognition payment system at dozens of its Moscow supermarkets.

It said some 3,000 stores across the country will feature the technology by the end of the year.

X5, developed the tech along with the Visa and Russia's state giant Sberbank.

China kindergarten told to stop veg diet

HEALTH

BEIJING: A newly Chinese authorities have ordered a kindergarten in southwestern China to give up its vegetarian diet for children following a controversy online that it could lead to nutritional deficiency.

The kindergarten, named Deyin School in Chengdu city, has broken national and local regulations on meals for preschool children by avoiding animal-based foods, the Hong-Kong based South China Morning Post quoted the local education bureau as saying on Wednesday.

The school provided milk and eggs, but no other animal-derived foods such as meat and fish which is against the government's nutrition guidelines for schools, the bureau said in a statement.

It has been ordered to improve its eating plan and to make it more balanced, the statement read.

UK strain 64% deadlier than prior variants

STUDY

PARIS: The coronavirus strain that first emerged in Britain and is now spreading internationally is 64 percent more deadly than pre-existing strains, according to a study published Wednesday that confirms earlier advice to the British government.

The variant, detected late last year, is one of several to have emerged in recent months from countries with large epidemics, raising the stakes in the race to rein in the pandemic. British authorities, who had already warned the variant was significantly more transmissible, in January said it was also believed to be up to 40 percent more deadly, based on a number of studies in the UK.

Findings from one of those studies, led by the University of Exeter, were published in the BMJ Wednesday.

Researchers compared data for nearly 55,000 pairs of participants who tested positive in the community – rather than in hospitals -- between October and January and followed them for 28 days.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Endangered turtles hatch

CONSERVATION

National Nine leatherback turtles -- the largest endangered marine turtle in the world -- were hatched along the coast of Ecuador, the Ministry of Environment said Tuesday. The Dermochelys coriacea -- the turtle's scientific name -- eggs were artificially incubated on the Punta Bikini beach, in the Manabi province in the southwest of the country. Rangers in the region had moved their nest after a harsh winter hit the coastal region. "This new hatching has allowed us to determine that we can achieve a high level of artificial hatching of these turtles, which represents an important stage for Ecuador in the matter of conservation," Daniel Alava, a vet from Corazon and Fragatas Island Refuge, said.

Covid cuts life expectancy

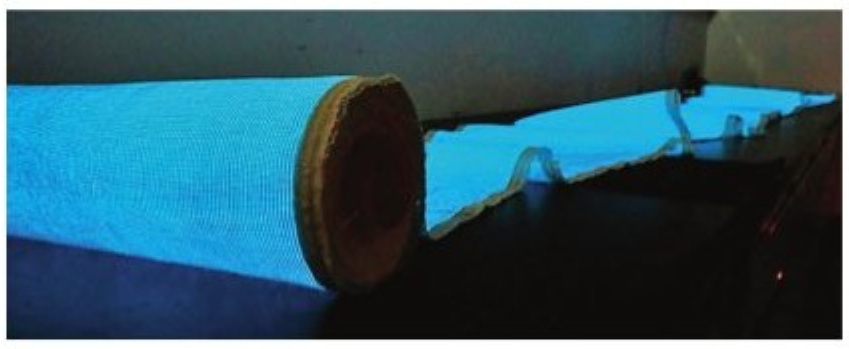
HEALTH

Average life expectancy in Italy has been shortened by almost one year to 82.3 years because of the coronavirus pandemic, national statistics office Istat said on Wednesday. Italy has been one of the countries worst hit by the pandemic, and the first in Europe. Earlier this week, it surpassed the milestone of more than 100,000 deaths. Estimates for 2020 "suggest a sudden halt and a significant reversal of the trend of continuous improvement in life expectancy observed in recent years", Istat said. Northern regions, which have been hit hardest by the virus, were the most affected by the reversal, with life expectancy in Lombardy falling from 83.7 years in 2019 to 81.2.

WEARABLE TECH

Scientists develop fabric that can display text & images

SCIENCE



TOKYO: At first glance, the fabric looks like a pretty if not especially original scarf, with turquoise, blue and orange stripes in an open weave. But this fabric can communicate.

It's wearable, foldable and washable, but it's also a fully functioning display – capable of flashing messages or images, or even being used with a keyboard.

The fabric, described in a study in the journal Nature on Wednesday, is the work of a team led by Huisheng Peng, a professor in the department of macromolecular engineering at Shanghai's Fudan University. He believes it could revolutionise communication and "help individuals with voice, speech or language difficulties to express themselves to others". "We hope that woven-fibre materials will shape next-generation electronics by changing the way we interact with electronic devices," he told AFP.

Peng and his colleagues have spent a decade thinking about ways to improve existing technology, experimenting with different materials.

One option they formulated did not display well in the dark, while another fibre they came up with did not perform when it was woven.

The team decided to try to create minuscule points of light where the fibres of a woven cloth meet. To make these tiny dots of light, they needed a luminescent warp and a conductive weft that could be woven together with cotton or similar fibres.

After testing different combinations, they settled on a silver-plated yarn warp coated with luminescent composite, and a conductive weft spun from a kind of gel.

The two materials were woven with cotton into a piece of fabric six metres long and 25 cms wide. Applying an electrical current caused the layer on the silver-plated yarn to light up where it was in contact with the conductive gel fibre.

Peng sees a variety of options, including a dynamic sleeve display that could, for example, allow a driver to view a GPS map on their arm as they move around.

But he is hopeful the material could also help people overcome difficulty communicating because of health problems or language barriers.

In one experiment with the fabric, they collected brainwaves from volunteers who had either been playing a race car game or meditating -- simulating a person in a stressed or relaxed state.

Museum halts sale of Islamic art

HISTORY

Israel's premier museum for Islamic art has scrapped the planned auction of scores of rare and precious items after public outcry over the attempted sale, which had been expected to fetch millions of dollars from wealthy private collectors. In a settlement struck Wednesday, the Sotheby's auction house agreed to return 268 items from London back to the LA Mayer Museum for Islamic Art in Jerusalem. The agreement ends a saga that drew broad condemnation and threatened to gut one of Israel's prized public art collections. Art experts criticized the attempted sale to private collectors, saying it had been hidden from the public and violated the museum's founding mission to edify the Israeli public about the Islamic world through art. As part of the arrangement, the Al Thani Collection, an art foundation funded by the ruling family of the energy-rich Gulf Arab state of Qatar, "will generously provide an annual sponsorship to the LA Mayer Museum for Islamic Art" for 10 years.

TRADITION AND A TWIST

Ahead of Shivaratri, Sandalwood composer Chandan Shetty comes up with an upbeat song that has already gone viral on social media with 2 million views

MONIKA MONALISA

WITH Shivaratri being celebrated on Thursday across the country, you may get to hear songs dedicated to Lord Shiva. But what makes Nodu Shiva – the latest one on the block – special is its fun and upbeat tune. Released recently, the song has gone viral with 2 million views.

Sung and composed by Chandan Shetty, the single stars popular Kannada serial actress Megha Shetty from Jote Joteyali fame and Sumith MK, who is the lyricist. Explaining the song, Sumith says it features a bunch of youngsters who have had failures in their lives but request the lord in a friendly manner to bless them with some success. "The song is written in such a way that it does not sound like either complaining or disrespecting the deity. It's like asking a friend to help him out," says Sumith, who himself is a devotee of Lord Shiva and is currently in Haridwar for the festival.

While the song is timely and out for the festival, he says it was written during the lockdown. "The song was written when most of us actually had no work to do. I had written the lyrics and approached Chandan Shetty for it. I have always liked his upbeat and peppy songs. Thankfully, he agreed to do it. And the moment I sent the lyrics, he was ready with the tune within three hours," says Sumith, adding that he was really impressed when he heard the tune for the first time which prompted him to do the song on a larger scale. "When I heard the song I felt that doing it on a smaller scale will do injustice to the song," he says, adding that the production of the song cost around ₹40 lakh.

The video of the song also shows Shetty shaking a leg. Shetty says since the song was composed during the lockdown, the tunes and idea were fresh in his head which worked out pretty well for the song. While it could be fun playing with tunes, the devotional aspect could mean some amount of risk, especially since Shetty doesn't want to ruffle the wrong feathers. For instance his Kolumande, got into controversy for hurting religious sentiments. But Shetty says the way people approach their divine power is very personal. "People have become more mature and understanding about the way they pray. My previous song Kolumande was a folk song, for which we had modern beats. Only a few sects had an issue. We didn't want anyone to feel bad so we had taken down the video," says Shetty adding that the lyrical video of the song is still there and views are still going up.

Women's cue sport in India is on the right track, say the players who are participating in the ongoing All India Open Snooker Championship in the city

Right on cue

ASHIM SUNAM

After Amee Kamani took part in her first nationals in 2011, the cueist from Indore hardly noticed any newcomers in the circuit for the next three-four years. It did surprise her to some extent. However, in the last couple of years or so, things have gradually changed in the women's circuit, with more youngsters showing interest.

Barring the nationals, there was not much top-level competition for women in India to compete then. "Over the years, the awareness about women's cue sports has definitely increased in our country. The number of tournaments has also increased for women players in India," Kamani, who is currently in the city to participate in the ongoing second edition of Bangalore Snooker Academy's All India Open Snooker Championship, told CE. The player has an impressive resume with several billiards and snooker titles.

"Earlier, there were not much exclusive ladies competitions to play for us. But now, people are gradually coming forward to organise invitation tournaments for ladies with good prize money in Madhya Pradesh and Tamil Nadu, among other places. This is a good thing for the sport," Kamani added.

Besides her, Varsha Sanjeev, a former national snooker champion from Bengaluru, was given direct entry in the main draw, which includes some top male players, including Pankaj Advani, Aditya Mehta and Sanjeev Kothari. Such competitions also give them a chance to test themselves against some of the best in the business, which can help them improve their game.

More importantly, what has helped women's cue sport in India has been the performance of senior stars such as Vidya Pillai and Umadevi Nagaraj, who have brought laurels to the country on the international level. "I feel that a lot of players get inspired when they see top women players like Vidya winning titles. These are Indian women players who can be looked upon as role models. It helps the sport, which is now seeing more youngsters take it up," said Varsha Sanjeev.

With upcoming players like Anupama Ramachandran and Keerthana Pandian, things are only expected to improve. Even the competitions for women at the international level have gone up. They can participate in events under different age categories. "When I used to play at the younger age, we did not have U-16, U-18 and U-21 World Championships," Kamani said. On the same lines, Varsha feels that competitions in age groups have helped the sport. "With more competitions both in India and abroad, it gives youngsters a chance to prove themselves. That motivates them to pursue cue sports as a career."

FIT BIT

VIPAREETA KARANI MUDRA

(INVERTED PSYCHIC ATTITUDE)

In Sanskrit, 'viparita' means inverted or reversed, 'karani' means doing and 'mudra' means gesture. It activates the Vishuddhi (Throat) Chakra, or energy center. This first of the three spiritual chakras is associated with higher communication and authentic expression. This Mudra is a highly energising form of inversion that helps to relieve the spine, legs, feet, as well as the nervous system. It also helps to calm the mind and brain, thus helping to reach greater self-awareness. It is mostly performed just before Shavasana. However, you can also practise this independently.

STEPS

- Assume Vipareeta Karani Asana.
- Bring the legs over the head so that the eyes look straight up at the feet.
- Now close your eyes and relax the whole body. This is the starting position.
- Fix the awareness at Manipura (Solar Plexus) Chakra in the spine, directly behind the navel.
- Now inhale slowly and deeply with Ujjayi Pranayama.
- You can simultaneously feel the breath and consciousness moving from Manipura Chakra to Vishuddhi (Throat) Chakra.
- At the end of exhalation, you can immediately bring the awareness back to Manipura Chakra.
- Repeat the process.
- Initially, you can practice up to seven rounds or until you feel discomfort.
- Gradually, increase the number of rounds up to 21 over a period of months.

BENEFITS

- Increases blood flow around the neck region as well as the thyroid glands.
- Relieves gravitational weight from numerous organs, thus helping in treating hydrocele, piles and other kinds of a hernia.
- Helps tone the neck, the spine, the intestines and abdominal organs.
- Helps reduce fat around the waist.
- Provides same benefits as Sirsasana or Sarvangasana.
- Helps relax cramped, tired feet and legs.
- Fights arthritis, anxiety, headaches, digestive problems, blood pressure, migraines, insomnia, mild depression, urinary disorders, respiratory ailments, varicose veins, and menstrual issues.

LIMITATIONS

- Menstruating women must avoid this.
- People having serious neck and back pains or other problems should practice under a yoga instructor.
- People suffering from severe eye problems, like glaucoma, avoid this.
- If pressure builds up in the head, stop practising.

TACKLING THE BIG C HEAD-ON

Although cancer is a frightening prospect, annual screening and early detection hold the key to reducing the burden of the disease

DR VIDYA M N

Cancer is the second most common killer in the world after heart diseases and accounts for approximately 9.5 million deaths each year. Even though in the recent years there has been tremendous progress achieved in increasing awareness around early detection of cancer, there are still very few takers for the early cancer screening tests.

Experts have highlighted that the underlying reason for a higher cancer mortality is an undue delay in diagnosis. Studies have shown that more than 50% of the cases in India are diagnosed at an advanced stage when chances of survival are low. A recent report published by WHO, titled 'The World Cancer Report' has highlighted how one in 10 Indians will develop cancer during their lifetime, and one in 15 Indians will die of cancer. This has emphasised the need for increasing the awareness around cancer testing and encourage more number of people to come forward for screening tests.

Although cancer may be a frightening prospect, several forms and types of cancer are fully treatable. There exists several types of cancer screening tests. These include:

Laboratory tests

These includes tests for tissues, urine, blood tests and oral tests that help in early detection of cancer. Serum tumour markers like CA-125, PSA, CA19-9 are very useful in cases of strong family history of cancer. Liquid-based cytology and HPV tests can prove vital for cervical cancer screening.

Physical exam and history analysis

Clinicians look for a lump or anything unusual that may indicate the onset of cancer. They perform a general exam of the body and also conduct an analysis of personal medical history and the familial genetic history of the disease. This helps them understand the onset of the cancer in one's body.

Genetic tests

These are performed to look for genetic changes or mutations that may have occurred in the body and are indications of the manifestations of some forms of cancer.

(The writer is lead consultant and HOD Histopathology, Aster Labs)

Overcoming fear of cancer screening

Early detection becomes extremely crucial in order to achieve success in treatment of any form of cancer. Detection at a stage when no sign or symptom is present (what is called screening) is, consequently, the best time for diagnosis because at this time, the cancer is completely curable and the patient does not have to suffer unnecessarily. The cost of treatment to the family is also far less. Often, due to the fear of a positive result, many individuals hesitate to schedule cancer screenings. Such people choose to live in ignorance than actually acknowledging the reality of the presence of cancer cells in their bodies. However, they must understand that ignorance will not cause the disease to go away and positive steps towards the eradication of disease is the only solution to the problem.

Imaging procedures

Doctors sometimes also perform imaging procedures as a part of cancer screening tests to obtain pictures of the areas inside the body for further analysis. These involve screening mammograms for breast cancer, oral examinations in routine health checks and ultrasounds as well.

Vagina dialogues

DR DEEPTHI ASHWIN

Abnormal vaginal discharge is a common complaint encountered in a gynaecologic practice. You can have normal vaginal discharge during ovulation, premenstrual, during pregnancy or sexual arousal. Healthy discharge keeps the vagina clean, prevents infections and provides lubrication.

Vaginal infections aren't life threatening but you should see your doctor if you have abnormal vaginal discharge, vaginal itching, painful intercourse, redness or rashes, burning sensation while urinating. It is important to treat the infections at the earliest and if left untreated, it can cause serious complications. The infection can be caused by bacterias, fungi (candidiasis), viruses (HPV, HSV) or parasites (trichomoniasis) and usage of irritants like sprays or douches.

Certain conditions make infection more likely, such as increased pH in the vagina causes the protective bacteria to decrease and an increase in infection causing bacteria; poor hygiene; wearing tight, non-absorbent underwear; leaving tampons in for too long.

A simple pelvic examination by your doctor can diagnose most infections. In certain situations the discharge may need to be tested in a laboratory. In some cases, your doctor may not be able to determine the cause of the infection (non-specific vulvovaginitis). This is usually seen in young girls. The following is a simple colour guide to vaginal discharge.

- Red/brown: Indicates old/fresh blood. If you are on birth control pills, see your doctor who may prescribe other birth control pills. If you experience irregular spotting, see your doctor who may need to examine you, do a PAP smear and rule out any infections.
- Cream/ milky white/ clear: Can be normal discharge unless associated with itching or has a foul odour
- Yellow/greenish: Usually a sign of infection. Sometimes it can be reported when people take new vitamins or try certain foods.
- Pink: If it isn't the beginning of your period, then see your doctor.
- Grey: Could be a sign of bacterial vaginosis and would warrant further treatment.

The treatment of these infections depends on its cause. You may be prescribed antibiotics/ anti fungals/antivirals for oral usage and creams and/or suppositories depending on the cause and severity of the infection. Proper diagnosis will ensure that you receive the right treatment. Avoid intercourse while on the treatment to prevent the spread of infection to your partner.

(The writer is senior obstetrician and gynaecologist, Fortis La Femme Hospital)

PREVENTIVE MEASURES

Using condoms can prevent the spread of STIs.

Hygiene: Keep the area clean and dry. It is preferable to clean the genital region with a mild non-scented soap and dry the area thoroughly. Clean the genital region from front to back to prevent the bacteria from the anus from entering the vagina. It is also important to teach young girls good hygiene practices.

Whenever possible, wear cotton underwear which are dried out in the sun. Change underwear daily.

Avoid irritants like certain soaps.

Regularly check your blood sugars to rule out diabetes mellitus.

Eating yogurt may help too.

Get regular PAP smears to identify and treat infections.

Vaginal infections can be caused by many organisms and no one treatment can cure all infections. It is important not to self-medicate. See your doctor who can diagnose and prescribe the appropriate treatment for you.

GLAND TALK

DR ANAND M

Prostate surgery can be a very complicated and a time-consuming process. So, any respite from that agony is most welcome in several hospitals and urology departments in India. Amongst some cutting-edge technology, there is also the Auriga 50W XL Holium Laser (HoLEP), which is currently being used for the process of prostate surgery.

The advantage of the HoLEP procedure is that the post operative catheterisation period is shorter, healing is faster and long-term problems like bladder neck contracture or urethral strictures are almost unknown. And unlike other laser prostatectomy, the morcellated tissue is also histopathologically checked to rule out 5 to 7 per cent of clinically and biochemical benign, yet harbouring cancer. HoLEP is safe in high cardiac patients, on blood thinners, or pacemakers. This procedure can also be used in order to detect stones and smaller tumours in the body of a patient. The HoLEP prostate surgery is also an optimal solution for men suffering from Benign Prostatic Hyperplasia.

Laser prostatectomy can be considered as an otherwise safe and sound procedure used by urologists. This is where HoLEP urology machine can help the people suffering from an enlarged prostate. Also, patients with cardiac problems and pulmonary compromise can rely on the HoLEP operation. One might have a few questions about whether HoLEP is better than TURP but when it comes to the benefits, there is no doubt that it can be a boon for people dealing with problems such as bleeding and other complications. TURP, while effective, might have some side effects such as excessive bleeding and TUR syndrome that are otherwise mitigated thanks to HoLEP.

One of the main aspects of the HoLEP procedure steps includes the laser removal of the entire enlarged section of the male prostate. Then the enucleated part is disintegrated into smaller pieces so that they can be further removed from the body of the patient without any difficulty.

Some of the advantages of using HoLEP are

- Outcomes from HoLEP are extremely durable with the rates of re-operation just 4% at a follow-up of about 8 years in total.
- The HoLEP surgery is not limited by the size of the prostate.
- A single laser of holmium can be used for about 20-50 different patients, thus reducing the HoLEP cost and making it one of the most cost-effective measures for the treatment of prostate-related ailments
- Treatment will not lead to incontinence and impotence in people as is seen in most of the conventional forms of surgery

30% increase in weight-gain linked kidney ailments

There is a 30 per cent increase in 'weight-gain' linked kidney ailments since the start of Covid-19 induced lockdow. Doctors at Gleneagles Global Hospitals, Hyderabad attribute this to sedentary habits that have crept into daily life. "We observed there are at least 30 per cent patients who are at an amplified risk of kidneys ailments arising due to increased body weight," said Gandhe Sridhar, chief consultant nephrologist at the hospital. Doctors say obesity is potent factor for the development of risks for chronic kidney disease, like diabetes and hypertension, and it has a direct impact on the development of even the end-stage renal disease. -IANS

Study reveals motion sickness severity

A team of researchers has identified that a person's ability to detect visual cues may help predict the severity of motion sickness symptoms. The study, published in the journal Entertainment Computing, indicated that discomfort was due to a specific sensory cue called motion parallax, which is defined as the relative movement of different parts of the environment. "As we tested sensitivity to sensory cues, a robust relationship emerged. It was clear that the greater an individual's sensitivity to motion parallax cues, the more severe the motion sickness symptoms," said researcher Bas Rokers from New York University, Abu Dhabi. - IANS

SOULFUL

MOVEMENT OF THOUGHTS

The movement of thought is not beauty. Thought can create what appears to be beautiful-the painting, the marble figure or a lovely poem-but this is not beauty. Beauty is supreme sensitivity, not to the sense of one's own pains and anxieties, but encompassing the whole existence of humanity. There is beauty only when the current of the "me" has completely dried up. When the "me" is not, beauty is. With the abandonment of the self, the passion of beauty comes into being. We have been talking over together in these letters the degeneration of the mind. We have pointed out for your examination and investigation some of the ways of this deterioration. One of its basic activities is thought.

Thought is a breaking up of the wholeness of the mind. The whole contains the part, but the part can never be that which is complete. Thought is the most active part of our life. Feeling goes with thought. Essentially they are one, though we tend to separate them. Having separated them, we give great importance to feeling, to sentiment, to romanticism and devotion; but thought, like a string in a necklace, weaves itself through them all, hidden, alive, controlling and shaping. It is always there, though e like to think our deep emotions are essentially different. In this lies great illusion, a deception that is highly regarded and leads to dishonesty.

As we have said, thought is the actuality of our daily life. All so-called sacred books are the product of thought. They may be revered as revelation, but they are essentially thought. Thought has put together the turbine and the great temples of the earth, the rocket, and the enmity in men. Thought has been responsible for wars, for the language one uses and the image made by the hand or by the mind. Thought dominates relationship. Thought has described what love is, the heavens and the pain of misery. Man worships thought, admires its subtleties, its cunning, its violence, its cruelties in the name of a cause.

Thought has brought great advances in technology and with them a capacity for destruction. This has been the story of thought, repeated throughout the centuries. We have never questioned the very nature of thought. We have accepted thought as inevitable as our eyes and legs. We have never probed to the very depth of thought, and because we have never questioned it, it has assumed preeminence. It is the tyrant of our life, and tyrants are rarely challenged. So, as educators we are going to expose it to the bright light of observation. The light of observation not only instantly dispels illusion, but the clarity of its light reveals the tiniest detail of that which is being observed.

Now can you notice with extraordinary clarity the whole movement of thought? The very observation of thought is the observation of your whole being, and this very being is put together by thought. As thought is finite, limited, so are you.

THE buzz about Shivarajkumar and director Harsha collaborating for their 125th project was earlier reported by CE, and it now stands confirmed. The film has been titled Veda, and carries the tagline — The Brutal 1960s. It will be officially launched on Thursday morning. This will be the first film venture bankrolled by Shivarajkumar's home banner. According to a source, an announcement about it will be made with a simple pooja and a poster release on the occasion of Shivaratri.

The tag line hints at the plot being set in the 1960s. The story is said to be a village based. The actor-director duo, who share a good rapport, are joining hands for the fourth time. They first worked together in Vajrakaya, and later teamed up for Bhajarangi. This was followed by the yet-to-be-released, Bhajarangi 2, and Veda will be their next. Shivarajkumar is currently shooting for Shivappa. The film, directed by Vijay Milton, is currently on floors and the team has completed the shooting of their second schedule. Rakshit Shetty

Rakshit Shetty's look for Sapta Sagaradaache Yello revealed

The actor will be seen in two shades in Pushkar Films' classic romantic drama directed by Hemanth M Rao

CE FEATURES

THE makers of Sapta Sagaradaache Yello, who had previously revealed that Rukmini Vasanth is coming on board the film, have unveiled the character look of the lead hero, Rakshit Shetty. The directorial by Hemanth M Rao, produced by Pushkar Films, will have Rakshit playing two shades, of which one look has been disclosed. The director has come up with a classic romantic drama for which the trio is teaming up for the second time, after Godhi Banna Sadharna Mykattu.

"The concept of Rakshit's look in this poster has been worked around the look of Rukmini that was previously revealed by us. Rakshit plays the role of Manu in the film, and we have tried to bring out an emotional complexion through his look, which evokes mood and violence. The second look will be revealed once we complete shooting the portions with this look. The other shade will have Rakhit go through a physical transformation," says Hemanth, who is currently conducting workshops before they begin the shoot. "Since this is an intense love story, we are working on the on-screen chemistry, and Rakshit, Rukmini and I are doing the rehearsals. We will start shooting later this month, and the entire shoot will happen in Bengaluru," he adds. Sapta Sagaradaache Yello has Charan Raj composing the music and Advaitha Gurumurthy handling the camera.

On Rakshit's work front, he has 777 Charlie in the making. The film, directed by Kiranraj, is now in the post-production stage, and the release date is yet to be fixed.

Elle Fanning to star in Barry Levinson's film

CE FEATURES

FILMMAKER Barry Levinson's film about the making of Francis Ford Coppola's crime drama The Godfather has roped in actor Elle Fanning to the cast.

Titled Francis and The Godfather, the movie will also feature Oscar Isaac, Jake Gyllenhaal and Elisabeth Moss.

According to The Hollywood Reporter, Isaac and Gyllenhaal will play The Godfather director Francis Ford Coppola and former Paramount studio head Robert Evans, respectively.

While Moss will portray Coppola's wife Eleanor Coppola, Fanning has been roped in to play the role of actor Ali MacGraw in the movie.

The movie will chronicle the battles between Coppola and Evans, which included taking a gamble on casting Marlon Brando, who had not had a hit in years, and a then-little-known Al Pacino. At the time, MacGraw was married to Evans.

Francis and The Godfather is based on a script by Andrew Farotte that was redeveloped with Levinson.

Directed by Francis Ford Coppola, The Godfather (1972) was based on author Mario Puzo's bestselling novel of the same name. The first movie, starring Marlon Brando in the titular role, spawned into a film series with two sequels, which released in 1974 and 1990.

The Godfather chronicles the life of Corleone family under patriarch Vito Corleone (Brando), focusing on the transformation of one of his sons, Michael Corleone (Al Pacino), from a doe-eyed family outsider to a ruthless mafia boss.

I have not experimented hugely with Roberrt: Tharun Kishore Sudhir

The director tells CE that the Darshan-starrer will be a two-and-a-half-hour high-voltage commercial entertainer packed with family drama and emotions

A SHARADHAA

THE release of a Darshan-starring film is nothing short of a festival, and director Tharun Kishore Sudhir has enough reasons to celebrate for his Roberrt. The film is opening to houseful boards on March 11, as the tickets have been sold out before the release. Produced by Umapathy Films, Roberrt will be out in 656 theatres and 100 multiplexes with over 2,786 shows in Karnataka alone. The movie is also coming out in Telugu in at least 433 theatres in Andhra Pradesh and 409 halls in Telangana. It will also be shown in Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Maharashtra and Delhi.

Ahead of the big day, Tharun tells CE, "This is the moment that proves the saying, 'There is always light at the end of darkness'. The pandemic had put us in darkness for almost a year, which is also coming to an end, and life is getting better. From the entertainment point of view, I call this a positive light."

Tharun Kishore Sudhir

Ask the the two-film old director about the most difficult part of helming a big starrer, and he replies, "Darshan as a star would have done everything in his 50-plus movies, and bringing out content that doesn't match his previous films is a challenge. However, I have tried my best to bring in some newness with the scenes and the on-screen attitude. Darshan is a professional actor and respects his technicians. But bringing something different on the table for a star is very tough. As an actor, he would already set a benchmark, so we aim to think beyond that."

Tharun was involved in the production aspect of movies for a long time, and took his time to take up directing, making the foray only after he learnt the finer points of working as a creative head, and working behind the scenes. "Be it with films like Adhyaksha, Ranna or Gajakesari, I got good opportunities to explore my skills. When I got the confidence that I can take the responsibilities, that's when I took up direction with Chowka, and now with Roberrt," he says.

Tharun was twice lucky with both the films, who managed to get associated with the Challenging Star in Chowka as well as Roberrt. Does he feel that half the job is done by bringing in an actor of a big stature in a film? Tharun agrees, saying that with a star, half the platform is set. "All you need is a little effort on this base, and you will get a good leap, and that will be like icing on the cake," he says. "When it comes to a newcomer, it starts with zero, be it the story or any other aspect, and it is tough to reach people without enough publicity. When you have a star, all you need to concentrate on is good content," he says.

As a director, according to Tharun, the first impression comes right at the writing stage, and an audience it gradually gets difficult to judge the project as technicalities start coming into the picture. "That initial excitement and thought I had while writing Roberrt has not been missed, and remains intact in the final product," he explains.

So does Roberrt follow a tried and tested commercial formula? "Yes, the pattern is tried and tested, but it's said in a new way, especially for actor Darshan," says Tharun, adding, "Today, we use the same mobile each time, but features and software keeps getting upgraded."

From what little has been revealed about the character played by Darshan, who will be seen in two shades in Roberrt, the storyline hints at a calm guy with a violent past. However, the team has been keeping it a secret. "It is always good to maintain suspense about the character, and questions like 'what' and 'why' attract people," Tharun asserts.

Tharun and Darshan have been good friends, and over the years, the bonding has only got stronger. So what was it about the Challenging Star that made him cast Darshan in the film? "His aura, and his screen presence come out very special. When you design a character for Darshan and bring him into the frame, it only enhances with the scenes and takes the film to the next level," says Tharun. Talking about the high points of the film, he says, "It is a proper high voltage commercial film, blended with family drama and emotions. It is two-and-a-half hours of packed entertainment. I will not say that I have experimented hugely here."

Pooja Bhatt doesn't draw out the mystery of her long absence from screen. In interviews, she has stood by her decision to step back from commercial films to focus on directing and producing. Still, somewhere, the actor in her has survived. Following a cameo appearance in last year's Sadak 2, she's now back in full form in Bombay Begums, Alankrita Shrivastava's series about five ambitious women in Mumbai.

Pooja says she'd have been a fool not to do the show. "I think it's the greatest decision I've taken in a long while," she admits. "It's rare that you can look at a body of work and feel a certain degree of contentment and pride. Bombay Begums, for me, is one such project."

In the show, Pooja essays Rani, the charismatic CEO of 'Royal Bank of India'. Rani's personal life is in disarray: her stepdaughter, Shai (Aadhya Anand), hates her, while her husband, Naushad, is stuck in the past. At one point, Rani is invited to speak at a leadership summit. A journalist asks how she balances her high-profile career with being a mother. While her co-panelist dismisses the question, Rani says she'd like to take that, candidly detailing how she juggles home and work. The moment is echoed in a later scene, when Rani publicly calls out her mentor for sexually harassing her.

"Strangely, the two times when Rani really opens up, it is to a complete stranger," Pooja reflects. "It's something I could really relate to because I've always led my life like that. I've always aired my problems. I've never edited my thoughts — and I paid the price for it in my 30-year-long career. But I've been true to myself."

The burden of personal honesty also weighs on Fatima (Sahana Goswami). A senior employee at the bank, Fatima is asked by Rani to fill in as the new Deputy MD. "Fatima is at a crossroads," Sahana details. "It's about her realising the choices she has made — where are they coming from? Are they really her own choices? Does she really want to be a mother or is it because everyone says it's the greatest joy in life?"
